Pennsylvania House Okays 4% Sales Tax

Senate, Governor Expected To Give Approval Shortly

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The Pennsylvania House of Representatives Wednesday passed a compromise plan to increase the 3½ per cent state sales tax to 4 per cent.

The state senate and Gov. David Lawrence are expected to approve the measure within three weeks.

The legislation, which provides the second boost in the sales tax rate in this session of the General Assembly, as well as a second expansion of its coverage, was approved 116 to 85.

Ninety-eight out of 106 Democrats present voted for it.

Eighteen of the GOP minority chipped in their "ayes."

The Republican minority leadership demanded a flat statement of Lawrence's intentions before supplying the votes to pass the measure, then came up with 10 more than were needed. The assurance was provided by majority leader Stephen McCann, Carmichaels Democrat, who said:

"The governor will sign the bill if it is sent to his desk in its present form."

Senate majority leader James S. Berger, Coudersport Republican, has indicated that his Republican colleagues will takes a long, hard look at the tax bill before passing it on to the governor. Whether the Senate majority is contemplating changes of importance remained problematical.

The tax measure is designed to provide another $148,500,000 for the governor's proposed program, and is expected to be coupled with two tax bills already in the Senate which are worth about $23,000,000.

They are measures to double the tax on bank shares and to impose the 14-mill gross receipts tax on gas utilities.

The governor holds that this additional money is approximately $60,000,000 short of budget requirements.

The House had passed to the Senate another tax measure worth $55,000,000, which would impose a six-mill levy on intangible personal property (stocks, bonds, etc.) But there appears little chance that it will pass the Senate.

3 Occupants, Heights Man Make Ballot

Wellsville Also To Have Contest With 4 Out For 3 Positions

For the first time in several years, East Liverpool will have a contest for three Board of Education seats as a veteran member and a Pleasant Heights newcomer filed petitions shortly before the deadline Wednesday to make a four-way race at the Nov. 3 general election.

A last-minute entrant also assured a contest for three seats on the Wellsville board where two incumbents did not seek re-election.

Three candidates are unopposed for posts on the Beaver Local board but contests in six other districts will be settled, including Southern Local, where a new board will be elected and nine have filed for five seats, and Fairfield-Waterford where three incumbents are opposed by three newcomers.

James Lowe of Gilson Ave., who is completing his sixth year on the city board, filed for re-election yesterday while Judson W. Allison, 1526 Wyoming Ave., a salesman making his first political bid, also entered.

Two incumbents, C. Walter Ashbaugh and James B. Moss, filed earlier for new terms.

It marks the first time in at least six years that East Liverpool has had a contest for school board.

In 1957, Leo C. Lawrence and Samuel W. Brown were unopposed for two seats while in 1955 Ashbaugh was persuaded to enter as a write-in candidate to complete the ticket.

Allison is an assistant supervisor in the Tri-State area for the Keebler Biscuit Co. and is a member of the Citizens Committee for Better Schools, Blue and White Nonpareil Club and Pleasant Heights Home and School Association.

Married and the father of two daughters, he attends Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

'West Berlin Probably Safe'

Herter Will Report Today To Ike On Geneva Parley

GENEVA (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter flew home today to tell President Eisenhower that despite the failure of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference, West Berlin is probably safe from Soviet pressure for many months to come.

Traveling by Air Force jet, Herter was due in Washington at 4:15 p.m. EST and planned to see the President an hour after his arrival.

The foreign ministers' conference—one of the longest high-level international sessions in more than a century—recessed indefinitely Wednesday night without agreement on either of the two major problems discussed. These were a German peace settlement and the future of West Berlin.

But Herter went home convinced that the danger of any overt Soviet action to force the Western powers out of West Berlin has been suspended and a new period of decreased tension in East-West relations seems to be opening.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd expressed a somewhat similar view on his arrival in London Wednesday night from Geneva. Recalling the tension which flared when Premier Nikita Khrushchev made his first threat last November to drive the Allies from West Berlin, Lloyd said the Geneva conference had succeeded in creating "the kind of atmosphere in which you negotiate."

Herter's view is based mainly on two developments: the agreement by Eisenhower and Khrushchev to exchange visits and hold informal talks beginning in Washington in September, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's repeated statements here that his government prefers a negotiated settlement for Berlin rather than a decision forced by unilateral Soviet action.

As one Western diplomat put it, Khrushchev would rather try to negotiate the Western powers out of Berlin than try to squeeze them out at the risk of a war. The Western ministers believe they impressed Gromyko and Khrushchev with their determination to protect West Berlin and its 2,250,000 inhabitants even to the extent of war.

Gromyko, who took off for Moscow shortly before Herter, said in a statement at the airport that the conference "has led to a definite rapprochement" between East and West on the German and Berlin issues. He conceded that substantial differences remain but said these only stressed the need for "further efforts on the part of the states concerned to achieve mutually acceptable decisions."

5 Hurt When Car Rolls After Leaving Road

4 Occupants Tossed Out, 5th Remains In As Auto Cartwheels

Three members of an Arkansas family and two local residents with whom they are vacationing were injured when their auto overturned five times after veering off the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. southeast of Hoppels Corners Wednesday night about 7:30.

Admitted to City Hospital were Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wade and 2-year-old son of Gentry, Ark and Joseph Wetzel, 15, of 108 W. 2nd St. Donald Wetzel, 17, brother of Joseph, was treated and released.

Mrs. Wade and the two Wetzel youths are children of Mrs. Thomas Taylor, 108 W. 2nd St.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Wade was traveling east "at a high rate of speed" and was unable to make a curve. The auto swerved off the highway about a mile from Hoppels Corners.

All in the car except Donald Wetzel were thrown out as it rolled over five times into a field on the farm of Everett Hoppel, according to members of the family who said the group was out for a ride.

Wade, 38, suffered fractures of the jaw and right hand, cuts of the chin and right cheek and abrasions of the arm. His wife, Donna Jean, 25, received a cut of the right foot and possible head injury, and Joseph Wetzel suffered possible hip and arm fractures. All are in "fair" condition.

Bruce Wade Jr. is in "good" condition with abrasions of the back.

Donald Wetzel was treated for a bruise of the forehead.

The patrol still is investigating.

Minor damage resulted to cars driven by Charles McKenzie, 28, of Wellsville R. D. 1 and Joyce Mohr, 21, of Negley R. D. 1 when they sideswiped on the Pancake Corn-

Liquor Option Vote Sought For Madison

Along with a flood of nonpartisan candidates seeking to get under the filing wire for the Nov. 3 general election, the County Election Board also received a petition asking a vote on the sale of liquor by the glass in Madison Township.

It was the 18th question and issue submitted by subdivisions for the Nov. 3 ballot, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

The deadline for submitting bond issues also ended yesterday, the clerk explained, with the exception of those filed under an emergency section of the law as the result of a disaster.

Four issues already have been certified. They include a $989,000 bond issue for a new county home, a $590,000 bond issue for construction of a high school in the Fairfield-Waterford School District, a $350,000 bond issue from Salem and a New Waterford bond issue for a sanitary sewer.

Subdivisions still may submit tax levies under the Uniform Tax Law until the deadline Sept. 14. Many school districts are holding off filing until a new law becomes effective Sept. 10 which permits submitting levies for an indefinite period. The boards must act between Sept. 10 and Sept. 14, O'Hanlon emphasized.

Other subdivisions are filing levies, qualifying under a new law establishing lower percentages for approval. The law becomes effective Sept. 14 but a clause allows pending proceedings to qualify for the lower vote percentage.

The special issues submitted so far include a referendum on East Liverpool's city income tax, an East Liverpool City Hospital levy, East Liverpool garbage levy, Knox Township road levy, renewal of a Southern Local School District 5-mill operating levy, a 2-mill levy in Salineville, a two-tenths mill levy in the county's general health district, a Fairfield-Waterford School District levy and a petition seeking dissolution of the school district, half-mill levy in Butler Township for fire protection, two 1-mill levies in Madison Township for road improvements and fire protection and a 4.6 mill current expense levy in the village of Leetonia for construction of a new fire station.

Mayoral Race To Mark Vote At Waterford

Hanoverton To Use Write-In Method To Pick Chief Executive

Two mayoralty contests will highlight the Nov. 3 general election in 5 smaller villages of Columbiana County after 53 candidates entered the nonpartisan races before the filing deadline Wednesday afternoon.

Three men are seeking the top post in New Waterford while a write-in campaign will decide the mayoralty of Hanoverton after no candidate sought the office.

New Waterford, Hanoverton and Summitville also will decide Council races while Rogers will settle a contest for village clerk and elect three councilmen by write-in votes.

Washingtonville will elect one member to the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs through the write-in method. Nominees for all village offices are unopposed. The tickets include:

Mediators Hit Verbal Blasts In Steel Issue

Urge Negotiators To Keep Minds On Real Bargaining

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal mediators are trying to persuade the steel strike negotiators to stop their barrage of public statements accusing each other and to concentrate on real bargaining for a new contract.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, says: "Anytime parties get together and quit laying down publicity barrages and go at things in a workmanlike way, it's progress."

Finnegan, who maneuvered Wednesday for less blasting in public, said he saw "no indication of any change by either party on any economic issue."

Joint negotiations continue today with the aid of the federal mediators.

The new technique of the mediators Wednesday involved a secret meeting between David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

While the McDonald-Cooper conference went on, other negotiators discussed contract terms. Finnegan said both sides appeared to be acting "in a more workmanlike way."

The strike of 500,000 members of the union is 23 days old. It has shut down almost 90 per cent of the country's steel production and has idled approximately 107,000 employes in allied industries.

The union's principal demand is for a wage increase of about 15 cents an hour in each year of a new contract, plus fringe benefits. The industry contends that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. Prestrike wages averaged $3.10 an hour.

Club Paddock Gaming Seen 'Wide Open'

Pittsburghers learned today what local residents have known for some time—plush gambling operations are in full swing at Club Paddock on Route 30, across the highway from the now-closed Club 30.

Two Pittsburgh newsmen visited the newer club Wednesday night and reported this morning the place was "wide open."

"Free food and drinks as long as you gamble," was the surprised comment of the pair.

Charles (Chuck)Teemer, former manager of the Club 30, was described as in charge of the Paddock, whose gambling facilities were compared with Las Vegas clubs.

Club 30 has been dark since a flying squad of West Virginia State Police raided the restaurant-casino June 12, 1957, arresting 12 employes and hauling away a moving van full of gambling equipment.

Teemer, of Pittsburgh, was listed as president of the club corporation at the time.

He is listed among holders of $250 gambling stamps issued by the Internal Revenue Service's Parkersburg office for the fiscal year which started July 1. The name Jockey Club was used, however.

Tibet Clashes Go On

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Scattered fighting is still going on against the conquering Chinese in some parts of Tibet's isolated wastes, according to refugees trickling across the borders into Nepal. Nepalese officials said the refugees were Khampas, the tribe which was in the forefront of Tibet's unsuccessful struggle against the Communists earlier this year.

TOKYO (AP) — North Korea today announced it will sign an agreement with Japan Aug. 13 providing for repatriation of Koreans in Japan who want to go to the Communist sector of their homeland.

44 Candidates 'Make Wire' In Deadline Rush

203 To Be On Ballot As Nonpartisans And 171 From Primaries

Forty-four nonpartisan candidates swamped the County Election Board with petitions before the deadline Wednesday afternoon to boost the number of aspirants for village, township and school district posts to 203 at the Nov. general election.

The last-minute rush kept the election staff busy right up to the 4 p. m deadline with four candidates seeking constable posts in four townships the last to file.

The candidates include 104 for offices in 19 townships, 46 school district aspirants and 53 seeking offices in 5 small villages under 2,000 population. There were 237 nonpartisan candidates for the same offices in 1957.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the Nov. 3 ballot will include a maximum of 374 names. In addition to the nonpartisan candidates, there were 171 nominated at the May primaries on party or independent tickets, he explained.

New Waterford and Summitville filed complete slates while Hanoverton lacks a mayoralty candidate and Rogers has only three aspirants for six Council seats. Washingtonville must name a trustee for public affairss by write-in votes.

The general election also will settle contests for Board of Education posts in 9 of 13 districts, including races in East Liverpool, Wellsville and Beaver Local.

The election board will meet Monday night at 8 in its office here to rule on the validity of the candidates' petitions. However, all candidates, whether nonpartisan, independent or party nominees, are permitted to withdraw until Aug. 14, O'Hanlon said.

The final entrants yesterday were Roland G. Gilson of Madison Township, Richard Elsner of Perry Township, George W. Gromley of Salem Township and Cliff-

Ike's Speech On Labor Bill Set For 7:30

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower joins battle tonight with a divided and quarreling Congress over the future shape of legislation to curb labor racketeering and abuses.

With the labor controls issue coming to a head in the House next week, Eisenhower arranged to go before the nation at 7:30 p.m. EDT tonight over major radio and television networks. He is expected to urge stricter controls over labor unions than the House Labor Committee has proposed and the Senate has passed.

Announcement of his plans immediately stirred up demands among some House Democrats for equal air time to voice their disagreement. The networks, however, were reserving a decision until they hear what Eisenhower has to say.

Not since the tumultous days of 1947, when the 80th Congress enacted the Taft-Hartley Act, has Congress been so bitterly at odds over labor legislation.

With tensions mounting, the House Rules Committee opened wide the door Wednesday to a free-for-all battle when the issue reaches the floor next Tuesday.

The committee, which decides how legislation is to be handled, decreed no limits on the amendments or substitute proposals which can be offered or on parliamentary moves that can be made. The week-long battle starts Tuesday.

Eisenhower is expected to try to rally public support for a measure sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich). It would outlaw all form of secondary boycotts and provide jail sentences for union officials who deny rank and file union members the exercise of their rights.

The committee, which decides how legislation is to be handled, decreed no limits on the amendments or substitute proposals which can be offered or on parliamentary moves that can be made. The week-long battle starts Tuesday.

Eisenhower is expected to try to rally public support for a measure sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich). It would outlaw all form of secondary boycotts and provide jail sentences for union officials who deny rank and file union members the exercise of their rights.

'West Berlin Probably Safe'

Herter Will Report Today To Ike On Geneva Parley

GENEVA (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter flew home today to tell President Eisenhower that despite the failure of the Big Four foreign ministers' conference, West Berlin is probably safe from Soviet pressure for many months to come.

Traveling by Air Force jet, Herter was due in Washington at 4:15 p.m. EST and planned to see the President an hour after his arrival.

The foreign ministers' conference—one of the longest high-level international sessions in more than a century—recessed indefinitely Wednesday night without agreement on either of the two major problems discussed. These were a German peace settlement and the future of West Berlin.

But Herter went home convinced that the danger of any overt Soviet action to force the Western powers out of West Berlin has been suspended and a new period of decreased tension in East-West relations seems to be opening.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd expressed a somewhat similar view on his arrival in London Wednesday night from Geneva. Recalling the tension which flared when Premier Nikita Khrushchev made his first threat last November to drive the Allies from West Berlin, Lloyd said the Geneva conference had succeeded in creating "the kind of atmosphere in which you negotiate."

Herter's view is based mainly on two developments: the agreement by Eisenhower and Khrushchev to exchange visits and hold informal talks beginning in Washington in September, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's repeated statements here that his government prefers a negotiated settlement for Berlin rather than a decision forced by unilateral Soviet action.

As one Western diplomat put it, Khrushchev would rather try to negotiate the Western powers out of Berlin than try to squeeze them out at the risk of a war. The Western ministers believe they impressed Gromyko and Khrushchev with their determination to protect West Berlin and its 2,250,000 inhabitants even to the extent of war.

Gromyko, who took off for Moscow shortly before Herter, said in a statement at the airport that the conference "has led to a definite rapprochement" between East and West on the German and Berlin issues. He conceded that substantial differences remain but said these only stressed the need for "further efforts on the part of the states concerned to achieve mutually acceptable decisions."

Mediators Hit Verbal Blasts In Steel Issue

Urge Negotiators To Keep Minds On Real Bargaining

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal mediators are trying to persuade the steel strike negotiators to stop their barrage of public statements accusing each other and to concentrate on real bargaining for a new contract.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, says: "Anytime parties get together and quit laying down publicity barrages and go at things in a workmanlike way, it's progress."

Finnegan, who maneuvered Wednesday for less blasting in public, said he saw "no indication of any change by either party on any economic issue."

Joint negotiations continue today with the aid of the federal mediators.

The new technique of the mediators Wednesday involved a secret meeting between David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

While the McDonald-Cooper conference went on, other negotiators discussed contract terms. Finnegan said both sides appeared to be acting "in a more workmanlike way."

The strike of 500,000 members of the union is 23 days old. It has shut down almost 90 per cent of the country's steel production and has idled approximately 107,000 employes in allied industries.

The union's principal demand is for a wage increase of about 15 cents an hour in each year of a new contract, plus fringe benefits. The industry contends that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. Prestrike wages averaged $3.10 an hour.

Club Paddock Gaming Seen 'Wide Open'

Pittsburghers learned today what local residents have known for some time—plush gambling operations are in full swing at Club Paddock on Route 30, across the highway from the now-closed Club 30.

Two Pittsburgh newsmen visited the newer club Wednesday night and reported this morning the place was "wide open."

"Free food and drinks as long as you gamble," was the surprised comment of the pair.

Charles (Chuck)Teemer, former manager of the Club 30, was described as in charge of the Paddock, whose gambling facilities were compared with Las Vegas clubs.

Club 30 has been dark since a flying squad of West Virginia State Police raided the restaurant-casino June 12, 1957, arresting 12 employes and hauling away a moving van full of gambling equipment.

Teemer, of Pittsburgh, was listed as president of the club corporation at the time.

He is listed among holders of $250 gambling stamps issued by the Internal Revenue Service's Parkersburg office for the fiscal year which started July 1. The name Jockey Club was used, however.

Tibet Clashes Go On

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Scattered fighting is still going on against the conquering Chinese in some parts of Tibet's isolated wastes, according to refugees trickling across the borders into Nepal. Nepalese officials said the refugees were Khampas, the tribe which was in the forefront of Tibet's unsuccessful struggle against the Communists earlier this year.

Repatriation Set

TOKYO (AP) — North Korea today announced it will sign an agreement with Japan Aug. 13 providing for repatriation of Koreans in Japan who want to go to the Communist sector of their homeland.

44 Candidates 'Make Wire' In Deadline Rush

203 To Be On Ballot As Nonpartisans And 171 From Primaries

Forty-four nonpartisan candidates swamped the County Election Board with petitions before the deadline Wednesday afternoon to boost the number of aspirants for village, township and school district posts to 203 at the Nov. general election.

The last-minute rush kept the election staff busy right up to the 4 p. m deadline with four candidates seeking constable posts in four townships the last to file.

The candidates include 104 for offices in 19 townships, 46 school district aspirants and 53 seeking offices in 5 small villages under 2,000 population. There were 237 nonpartisan candidates for the same offices in 1957.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the Nov. 3 ballot will include a maximum of 374 names. In addition to the nonpartisan candidates, there were 171 nominated at the May primaries on party or independent tickets, he explained.

New Waterford and Summitville filed complete slates while Hanoverton lacks a mayoralty candidate and Rogers has only three aspirants for six Council seats. Washingtonville must name a trustee for public affairss by write-in votes.

The general election also will settle contests for Board of Education posts in 9 of 13 districts, including races in East Liverpool, Wellsville and Beaver Local.

The election board will meet Monday night at 8 in its office here to rule on the validity of the candidates' petitions. However, all candidates, whether nonpartisan, independent or party nominees, are permitted to withdraw until Aug. 14, O'Hanlon said.

The final entrants yesterday were Roland G. Gilson of Madison Township, Richard Elsner of Perry Township, George W. Gromley of Salem Township and Cliff-

2 Are Killed, 4 Wounded By Berserk Man

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A berserk man fired repeated shotgun blasts into a home for the aged today killing two residents and wounding four others before he was critically wounded by police.

The shooting at the Uptown Home for the Aged came as about 150 elderly occupants gathered in a dining room for breakfast.

A passer-by was shot at twice but escaped and called police.

Police said the gunman was Kyrlo Czupirczuk, 42, an unemployed carpenter who lived next door to the North Philadelphia home. He was shot four times in the chest and was in a critical condition at a hospital.

He fired from a second-floor room of his home into the other home.

No motive for the shooting was known immediately.

The home is a privately operated institution for Jewish people.

The old contract expired at midnight. Details of the agreement cannot be announced until they have been put in writing, which may take several days.

Armstrong has 2,700 employes in four plants, none of them in Ohio.

Toronto Driver Cited For Pughtown Mishap

A Toronto man, in "very good" condition today at Weirton General Hospital, was charged with reckless driving following a two-car accident Wednesday about 7 p. m. near the intersection of old and new Routes 2, near Pughtown, the Hancock County sheriff's office reported.

John B. Stevenson, 49, received a broken collar bone when he attempted to pass and hit the left rear of the auto of Kitty Pyle, 54, of New Cumberland.

Stevenson then lost control and skidded some 255 feet and went over an embankment, police said. Both cars were traveling north. About $800 damage was reported to both, the sheriff's office said.

Hiroshima Pauses

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—The 340,000 inhabitants of Hiroshima paused today for a minute of prayer on the 14th anniversary of the American atom bombing of their city. Two girls, disfigured as children by the searing explosion, tolled the memorial bell in the Peace Plaza before more than 30,000 people carrying incense sticks and Buddhist rosaries.

Cumberland To Quit Collecting Utility Bills

NEW CUMBERLAND — Council Tuesday evening decided to discontinue the town policy of collecting bills for the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. and the Monongahela Power Co. effective Aug. 15, unless both companies pay the city 1 per cent of the total amount of money collected in a 12-month period.

Council said a survey shows the cost of collecting the bills amounts to more than the $840 that the utilities pay the city.

Billy Steuart, Michigan State swimmer from South Africa, won four NCAA and five Big Ten freestyle titles in two years.

Fake Bill Breaks Counterfeit Ring

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A fake $5 bill sneaked out of the trousers of a sleeping husband by his wife proved to be a pivotal clue in helping the Secret Service break up a $10,000 counterfeit ring.

Asst. U.S. Atty. W. Francis Murrell said Wednesday the four-month-old investigation took a climactic turn when Mrs. Dallas S. Barr fished the $5 from the pocket of her cab-driver husband.

He said Mrs. Barr bought some dry goods and handed the merchant the $5 bill, unaware that it had one blank side.

Mrs. Barr hastily and blushingly retrieved the bill and left the store.

The merchant called police. Secret Service agents raided Barr's home last weekend and found the $5 bill and printing plates.

Arrested were Barr, 28, and Melvin E. Rhodes, 33; Norman S. Bennett, 36, a former convict; George G. Hoines, 37; and William James Lindquist, 26. Agents said Mrs. Barr was not involved.

Garry Stigall, Secret Service agent-in-charge, said the five men spread $10,000 in fake bills throughout the Middle West in the last few weeks. Barr was described by Stigall as the ringleader.

Robbery Suspect Held

BOSTON (AP) — Henry Alfred Hopkins, 34, of Pittsburgh, was arrested by FBI agents Wednesday on a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

An agent said Hopkins is wanted on a charge of robbing the Wilson Drive-In Restaurant in Chesapeake, Ohio, Dec. 17, 1955. Hopkins will be arraigned here before a U.S. Commissioner.

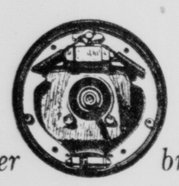
WHY DO WITHOUT A LITTLE LUXURY LIKE THIS... LET ALONE

Chevy's the only car of the leading low-priced three that gives you the convenience of crank-operated vent windows. No awkward latches to fumble with . . . your knuckles and fingernails will appreciate it.

THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!



bigger brakes

Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper: in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outstopped both of the "other two" time after time.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research.

award-winning engines

The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines . . . for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." And you can choose among eight V8's and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

full coil ride

You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.

fresh styling

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.

greater roominess

bigger savings

Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide took the first two places in their class. Winning mileage: 22.38 m.p.g. And that, friends, took top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

higher trade-in

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books prove that your Chevrolet will keep its value. Chevy used car prices last year, for example, averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevrolet's field.

Fake Bill Breaks Counterfeit Ring

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A fake $5 bill sneaked out of the trousers of a sleeping husband by his wife proved to be a pivotal clue in helping the Secret Service break up a $10,000 counterfeit ring.

Asst. U.S. Atty. W. Francis Murrell said Wednesday the four-month-old investigation took a climactic turn when Mrs. Dallas S. Barr fished the $5 from the pocket of her cab-driver husband.

He said Mrs. Barr bought some dry goods and handed the merchant the $5 bill, unaware that it had one blank side.

Mrs. Barr hastily and blushingly retrieved the bill and left the store.

The merchant called police. Secret Service agents raided Barr's home last weekend and found the $5 bill and printing plates.

Arrested were Barr, 28, and Melvin E. Rhodes, 33; Norman S. Bennett, 36, a former convict; George G. Hoines, 37; and William James Lindquist, 26. Agents said Mrs. Barr was not involved.

Garry Stigall, Secret Service agent-in-charge, said the five men spread $10,000 in fake bills throughout the Middle West in the last few weeks. Barr was described by Stigall as the ringleader.

Robbery Suspect Held

BOSTON (AP) — Henry Alfred Hopkins, 34, of Pittsburgh, was arrested by FBI agents Wednesday on a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

An agent said Hopkins is wanted on a charge of robbing the Wilson Drive-In Restaurant in Chesapeake, Ohio, Dec. 17, 1955. Hopkins will be arraigned here before a U.S. Commissioner.

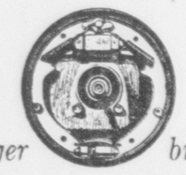
WHY DO WITHOUT A LITTLE LUXURY LIKE THIS... LET ALONE

Chevy's the only car of the leading low-priced three that gives you the convenience of crank-operated vent windows. No awkward latches to fumble with . . . your knuckles and fingernails will appreciate it.

THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!



bigger brakes

Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper: in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outstopped both of the "other two" time after time.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research.

award-winning engines

The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines . . . for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." And you can choose among eight V8's and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

full coil ride

You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.

fresh styling

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.

greater roominess

bigger savings

Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide took the first two places in their class. Winning mileage: 22.38 m.p.g. And that, friends, took top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

higher trade-in

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books prove that your Chevrolet will keep its value. Chevy used car prices last year, for example, averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevrolet's field.

The Education Of Nikita Khrushchev

It is an open secret that U.S. Foreign policy calls for a cram course in the education of Nikita Khrushchev. This country believes officially its best bet for peace is to make sure that the premier of Russia does not underestimate the strength of American capitalism.

It believes in this connection that if the No. 1 figure in Russian socialism sees with his own eyes what has been done under a system of people's capitalism — something Karl Marx could not have conceived of — he may simmer down his version of "bury this country.

But the education of Nikita Khrushchev will be no pushover. It will take something more subtle than the rock-'em-sock-'em technique of bowling him over with visits to supermarkets and production lines. Mr. Khrushchev is not an academic sponge thirsting for proof that he has been wrong.

He may come up with some penetrating questions. To be blunt about it, he may be loaded for ideolotical bear when he comes here. For instance, he may want to know about the great steel strike of 1959, particularly if it's still going strong.

Those smokestacks with no smoke coming out of them and those cavernous plants with nothing happening inside them might be one of the sights he would ask to see. Someone had better have an official version ready in advance and everybody would do well to stick to the official script.

It will not be easy to explain why the component elements of people's capitalism go to war with each other — why under this best of all possible systems there must be a protracted bleeding and dying at the expense of workers, managers, owners and the general welfare.

Nor will it be easy to explain why this best of all systems should be a helpless patsy to be mauled like a kitten at a dog show while the government that is supposed to be the referee admonishes the dogs to show a little more restraint. That might make People's Capitalism seem to have homes in its head.

A steel strike in progress during the forthcoming educational tour of Premier Khrushchev is one of a number of challenges that confront his educators, albeit one of the tougher ones. The official version had better be good, because when it comes out there will be many Americans interested in it, too.

There are times when people's capitalism has to fall back on its weaknesses to explain why it ultimately proves to be strong. A nationwide steel strike bleeding hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of value out of U.S. production will be even harder to explain to an unfriendly socialist than it is to explain to use homegrown friendly people's capitalists.

Earning Power Makes The Difference

Whenever a fresh argument breaks out over the pay-as-you-go principle in public spending, someone suggests it makes as much sense for government to borrow now and pay back later, with interest, as for private enterprise to do the same thing.

There is no comparison.

Private enterprise "borrows" money to make money. It pays its interest in the form of profit — and if there is no profit there is no interest. Moreover, if there is no profit the value of the shares held by the stockholders dwindles.

Public spenders do not make money. They spend money.

They may talk about "investment," but it's doubletalk. Public expenditures are not investments.

All the investing is done by corporations, companies, partnerships, individuals and so on that lend money to governments that want to spend more than they have.

They go further than that. They spend more than they will get back, because long-term borrowing is the traditional way to insulate taxpayers against the shock of public spending.

Instead of letting the taxpayers pay on the line and save carrying charges, governments have made a practice of selling long-term bonds to conceal from taxpayers the price of the progress they were demanding.

The net result is more cost and less results, but governments learned long ago that taxpayers have short memories; they forget. They are suckers for the credo that the pain-saving way to cut of a puppy's tail is to do it an inch at a time.

But taxpayers aren't as easy to fool as they used to be. They finally have learned what is wrong with the credo that public debt is money they owe themselves. They owe it to the people who advanced the money in the first place, and that is something much more complicated.

With no way to make money, government must pay back not only as much as it borrows but the additional interest. Hence, the growing attractiveness of the pay-as-you-go procedure, which is nothing more or less than getting more public value out of a taxpayer's buck.

As long as it's the taxpayer who's going to pay anyway, he might as well hold his payments to a minimum, instead of sharing his wealth with interest-charging investors.

The Secret Of Edgar Guest

The only trouble with Edgar Guest, who died in his sleep Thursday morning, was the fact he had to be classified ocupationally as a poet. This elevated the dander of the people who equate poetry with high-brow accomplishments. They resented the uninvited Guest.

He was not a poet, in the high-brow sense. He was a typographical minstrel who performed in rhyme — an entertainer. He knew this, of course, and he held nothing against critics who snooted him as an interloper. For every person reached by the high-brow poets of his generation, he reached a thousand.

They knew what he was trying to say. They got his message. They loved him for delivering it in words, similes and metaphors they could understand. In an era of rabble-rousers hell-bent on mischief, Edgar Guest used his contact with the minds of ordinary people for good purposes.

He comforted them with his preachments and made them feel as if they wanted to be as good as they knew how to be. He let them feel as though their lives were just as important as the lives of the great men that reminded them only of their own inability to leave any footprints on the sands of time.

It is good to know that such a man lived to a few days of his 78th birthday and worked up to the end of his life. He was a newspaperman first, last and always, a credit to a profession he was proud to serve.

The Once Over

Hosses are now at Saratoga and the old Jamaica track has closed for last time. Housing development is in works. Home-sweet-home mood at the race track will seem odd.

Mothers will rock babies where photo finishes once rocked horse players. Husbands will trim hedges where touts used to trim husbands. The milkman will come down stretchrun of yesterday.

The cry of "The bum quit" will greet a slow vegetable-wagon driver instead of a thoroughbred skinner.

A Jamaica home seeker, disappointed because a neighbor's house gets finished ahead of his bungalow, will get the builder's excuse "I got nosed out."

The cry of "They're off!" can mean nothing more than that the apples have fallen from the backyard tree or that an insecticide has driven all the fleas off family hound.

HUNDREDS OF HOMES rising on a spot where for generations people gathered to forget about their firesides seems fantastic. Bungalows and ranch houses where tote boards, starting - gates and judges' stands once stood!

Domestic quarrels where jockeys often battled. "Rockabye Baby," on the Tree Top" drifting across fields where "Boots and Saddles" sounded for decades! ghosts will move through the Jamaica development.

Through the night will be heard "What does Moe like?" and "Are they trying with this one?" If there is a schoolhouse on the site, the kiddies may hear hoofbeats during the spelling lesson and hear whisper, "You lost on the first three lessons today but maybe you break even on the day by winning your arithmetic test."

Jamaica had a homespun quality. It was Belmont without the landscaping and with its shirtfront unbuttoned. Thanks for Saratoga. It's almost the last stronghold of cozy, comfortable, nonpretentious completely relaxed racegoing. The terrible thought is that it, too, will one day be forced to bow out for a housing project, with shopping lists replacing betting odds and housewives replying to "Why are you using the tomato plant spray on the rose bushes?" with simple excuse "I got switched."

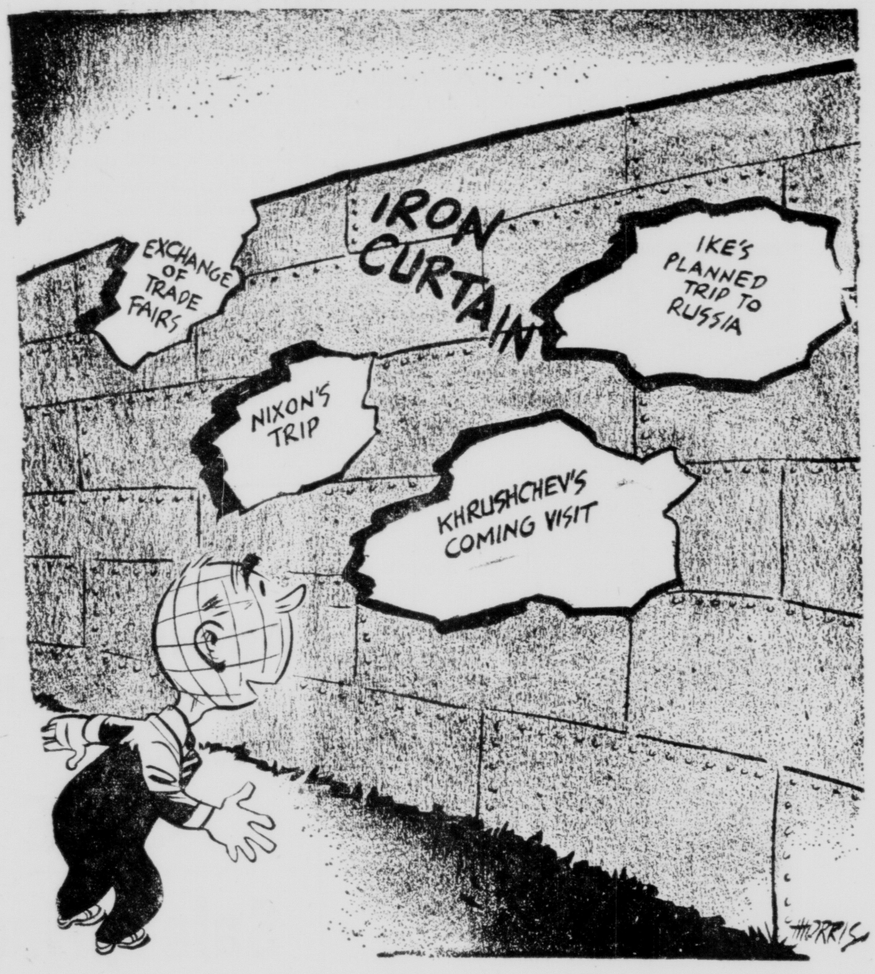
Suddenly It Doesn't Seem So Rust-Proof



African Group Resembles Mau Mau

By Victor Riesel

NAIROBI, Kenya

Virtually everywhere on this continent—as big as Russia and China combined—the search for subversion leads one to chilling secret societies still taking grim blood oaths deep in bush country, high in mountain forests or down in tropical jungles. All of them hate the whites and plan to destroy those African leaders who preach moderation.

Victor Riesel

Mau Mau may be deader than the families they hacked to pieces with long razor-edged pangas or shot down with do-it-yourself guns made of stolen piping. But there is a new secret society carefully working out new terror.

It's the KKT—The Kiama Kia Thayu. Strangely enough it's called the Society of Peace. Intelligence officers here note that the use of the word "peace" in terrorist language is oddly parallel to Communist Aesopian language.

THESE OFFICERS reveal that no one knew the origin of the Mau Mau name. Some thought it sprang from Mao, the leader of the Communist Chinese. Some said it might have evolved simply from some Briton's offhand crack that the old killers walked as softly as cats and people began calling them "meows". Some said it was merely alliterative letters strung together.

But now for the first time there is a propaganda note in the terrorism that has little to do with internal Kenyan matters. The KKT is operating in the Embu area exactly as the Mau Mau and another outfit called KKM did. The new KKT has just been discovered. It's paraphernalia is the same as the stomach-curdling Mau Mau equipment.

So are the killing oaths.

Because of this grimness on the outer edges of civilization, the government insists on maintaining its Mau Mau emergency laws over a considerable part of the key colony—in which Britain is about to begin building a 10-million-dollar military base hooked right into our own defenses.

And these Emergency laws still keep strict control over the Kenya Federation of Labor—led by the 28-year-old Tom Mboya, the one African backed solidly by the AFL-CIO. Oddly enough these laws could also keep unions clean if properly handled by government officials.

THE STATUTES were passed in 1955 to keep unions in line after the Mau Mau had been beaten in the field.

During the Mau Mau emergency the government refused to permit union shop stewards to collect dues in the plants, on the docks, in the hotels and at other concentrations of workers.

Then the security police picked up almost two score labor leaders and put them in detention camps as Mau Mau sympathizers. Some of these are still held among the hundreds accused of being hard core Mau Mau terrorists even today.

The first union dragnet was hauled in by the government in 1953. By 1955 the African unions were reeling. Then the government put its Register of Trade Unions act in final shape. This means that as soon as a union starts collecting dues it must register with the government.

The registrar then examines the union constitution. He has the right to insist that there are democratic by-laws and that the officers are literate in Swahili and English so they can carry on routine business and keep full accounting of funds in regular Westernized books.

The registrar then looks over the field to see if another union already exists in the area being sought by the new outfit. The registrar can rule that there already is an existing union covering the jurisdiction and can refuse the new applicant the right to organize.

THE REGISTRAR, appointed by the governor, can call for the books, minutes and all data and files after he has permitted the union to register and organize. He can dissolve a union if it goes crooked or if it terrorizes firms or employes.

He can de-register a group if it is a paper outfit or if it doesn't operate on the statement of principles it laid out in its application for government approval. Thus a group cannot say it wants to register as a truck union and then organize white collar workers.

The registrar can also dissolve a union for violation of the spirit of the law. This means that he can de-certify a union for being politically active because the law says that a union can dedicate itself only to employer-worker relations. Thus if a union criticizes a piece of legislation or a decision of the authorities it can be dissolved.

Defiance by the union's leaders can bring jail and fines. There are provisions for full secret balloting on strike action, too.

The authorities say that they don't dare permit a union to be captured by a secret terrorist outfit in the future. Tom Mboya retorts that this is a union-busting law. And that if his labor federation and his own influence are broken there will be no moderate force to stand between law and order on one side and violence against the white settlers and the government on the other.

And out in the Ebu wilds, the Kiama Kia Thayu enrolls blood brothers in the "Society of Peace."

They Asked For It

By Raymond Moley

By the way, what became of the noted commentator who wrote last week that Nixon's Polish visit was a mistake in judgment?

He is the same prophet who said in the spring of 1932 that Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt could not possibly succeed in running a campaign for the presidency.

In this contest of fairs, of products for homes, personal adornment and the like, accompanied by visits to the United States by vices-this and deputies-that, the Soviet government fired the first shots. The Hon. Winston Churchill suggested on a famous occasion during the war against Hitler: "What kind of people does he think we are?"

In the present instance, the Kremlin, like Hitler, Kaiser Wilhelm II, and way back to George III and Lord North, apparently utterly failed to understand either the resourcefulness of Americans or the character of their civilization.

IT SEEMS the more strange when we consider the vast sums that the Soviet spends spying on this country, in inspecting its products and copying them and the swarm of official and underground people who have come over here and looked around. Not only may we ask, "What kind of people do they think we are?" but, "what kind of people do they think Russians and Poles are?"

Once upon a time, an official of the United States returned from a mission abroad in which it seemed to some that he had been outsmarted in dealing with foreign diplomats. He was told when he returned: "Well, they took you in, didn't they?"

A good many of our emissaries have been taken in. But apparently, in a spectacular way and in a few days, Nixon has successfully "taken in" Russians and Poles in great numbers. We shall have to look back to the days when Ben Franklin "took in" the French in Paris for a parallel.

It is apparent that the Soviet high command overestimates the ability of the vast majority of people to understand and follow an ideological line.

People generally — and we may make exceptions of those who live in philosophical cages — find it hard or impossible to encompass an idea as complicated as Marxism. They require some visible symbol and attach themselves to that.

It would seem that the Soviet leaders, after their recognition of that limitation in human nature in the elaborate embalming of the earthly lineaments of Lenin and Stalin for perpetual adoration, would realize this fact.

Nor is this limitation of human beings an exclusive trait of Russians and Poles. We Americans would generally be hard put to it to provide a coherent and rational definition of our capitalistic society.

THIS WAS SHOWN some years ago when a series of questions was put to a number of Americans including some that asked whether the questionees favored this or that specific item in the socialist credo. Generally they favored such items but when asked whether they favored socialism, they said, "no."

We have our symbols, too, as our coins and stamps so persistently tell us. So do the British. Note their attachment to a queen or king.

There is something common to all of us — Russians, Poles, Americans, and the rest. We judge a system or party or civilization by what it produces. We like our system because it delivers the goods. And we now find that Russians and Poles like the same kind of goods that we do.

Perhaps this fact may even penetrate the dialectical jungle that is a Communist party leader's brain. When it does, everyone will be happier.

Through The Years

New Steel wheels and plates were riveted to the lower lock of Ohio River Dam No. 7 at Midland.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The 51st semi-annual Dollar Day was held under the auspices of the Retail Merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce, with about 80 firms participating.

Members of the First Baptist Church observed the 40th anniversary of the church.

Who Won?

By David Lawrence

Ike Plays High Card With Khrushchev Visit

A fascinating "poker game" has been going on for several weeks now and the big question is: Who won — Khrushchev or Eisenhower?

The reasons behind the invitation by the President to the Soviet Premier are by no means clear and it is not yet possible to say which one was outmaneuvered.

David Lawrence

But these facts are known — that the Soviet premier wanted a summit conference and the United States didn't, though Britain was favorable and France was somewhat indifferent. The Foreign Ministers Conference at Geneva was devised on the theory that, if any substantial progress were made, this would justify a summit conference.

But Nikita Khrushchev is a stubborn man. He didn't want a foreign ministers conference. He sent his foreign minister to Geneva but with instructions to make no agreements there. Gromyko complied 100 per cent. The idea was to force a summit meeting on the pretense that only the heads of government could negotiate agreements.

Then the Western Allies recessed the Foreign Ministers Conference. President Eisenhower decided on another approach. He thought that maybe an "exploratory" consultation might be held between him and the Soviet Premier.

If Mr. Khrushchev wanted to come to the United States on a visit — it had been said that this was his real reason for pressing for a summit conference — then an invitation to him alone to come to America might serve the broad purpose. At least it would feel out the situation for the United States and then it could be determined whether any progress sufficient to warrant a summit conference had been made.

CORROBORATION of this analysis is to be derived in part from the President's press conference on Monday of this week, when he was asked:

"The impression has somehow been received, Mr. President, in considering a possible visit by Mr. Khrushchev to the United States, that before you would issue an invitation to him, there would have to be some evidence of 'give,' in the sense of 'give and take' on the part of Mr. Khrushchev on Western principles. May we take it that there has been some such indication?"

The President replied:

"No, I can't — I don't think you can say that, Mr. Belair. This is what I have said — that the holding of a summit meeting and negotiation, that that would be, to my mind, absolutely impractical and, as the State Department says, unproductive unless we could count on some positive results. But I would say these, so far as our discussions of mutual problems, are exploratory rather than any attempt at negotiation."

Mr. Eisenhower revealed that" Some time back" he had suggested to the State Department that he believed, "in the effort to melt a little bit of the ice that seems to freeze our relationships with the Soviets, that possibly a visit such as I now have proposed would be useful, and we studied this thing and, in early July, I initiated the correspondence that finally brought about an agreement."

Under the circumstances, it now is apparent just why Foreign Minister Gromyko wouldn't agree to anything at Geneva. As long as a consultation with the President of the United States was being planned, the Soviet government felt that nothing further need be done for the present.

Conversely, it is possible that Mr. Eisenhower hoped his gesture might eventually have a beneficial effect.

APPARENTLY he still held to that view even in his special conference with the press this very week, when he said:

"The visit itself (between Khrushchev and the President) has no direct connection with any possible later summit meeting. I, of course, would hope that the mere announcement would inspire the foreign ministers to a greater activity, and probably some greater effort at conciliation, so that there might be results before Wednesday, when they temporarily adjourn — at least that would justify the scheduling of such a later meeting, at what time I don't know. But in any event, even if they have to reassemble, I would hope they could do that, if they found it reasonable and proper.

"Now I merely want to make clear that this is a personal visit for the purposes that I have outlined, and are given in the statement, but with the hope that it will do something to promote understanding and possibly progress toward peace in the world."

THE KEY PHRASES in that comment are those that say there is "no direct connection" with the later summit meeting and that "this is a personal visit." But the impression is inescapable that the President tried hard to assuage the Soviet Premier with a promise of an exchange of personal visits, hoping that something good in return would come out of the Foreign Ministers Conference at Geneva or later in New York anyway.

There is some reason to believe that the Soviet Premier accepted the President's invitation rather suddenly, for a press association as late as Friday of last week reported as follows:

"The President has told some visitors that an invitation to Khrushchev is like a high card in a poker game, not to be dealt out without something in return. He has referred privately to the Foreign Ministers Meeting as a poker game."

As these lines were written, it was recognized that some move by Moscow that would seem to be a viewpoint might be in the offing.

If it came, the feeling was that this might have justified the maneuverings on both sides. If it didn't come, Mr. Eisenhower was represented as still hopeful of an eventual change for the better on the issues raised at the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference.

Building A Wall

By Truman Twill

Ever since a reader cracked off a crude comment that the stone wall at our place must be bigger than the Great Wall of China, judged by the fact it never seems to be finished, the subject had been shelved.

But last Sunday afternoon a decision was made to add another section to the original section that never has been finished.

To the lady skeptic who suggested gloomily it was going to take more rocks were everywhere. All that had to be done was pick them up.

By dark, it was clearer than it ever had been before why the stone wall at our place suggests the Great Wall of China; also why the thing never has been finished.

Here is one of those things a householder with rocks in the head undertakes for lack of anything more worthwhile to do — and also because this particular householder has a soft place for the picturesque stone fences that are to be seen in New England and in the Bluegrass region of Kentucky.

They were not built in these places for their scenic effect, but to get rid of the stones that cropped out of the ground. And of course they were not built in a day, a year, or one lifetime.

Generations of hard-working people piled them up and repiled them as they fell down, until finally each stone had found its natural place and was content to stay there.

All this has been made plain by a stone wall whose over-all length cannot be more than 100 feet and whose elevation at the highest point is less than three feet. Unless stones were to be hauled in from the outside by truck, it would take years to find enough on the premises to constitute a decent wall.

That is to say, it would take that long to put together a wall that would be wide enough at the bottom to stay solid.

There is no substitute for a solid footing — and that's why it will take years to get our wall into A-1 condition. At this moment, all the stones in sight have been rounded up. It will be years before enough more come to the surface to finish the job.

It has become a point of pride that the project shall be completely homegrown — no imported material — all field stones picked up on the premises. That is part of the challenge, as it has turned out, because these stones left behind by the glacial drift are uniformly round, which makes them hard to fit together.

When the wind blows, they roll. When snow melts, they roll. They roll for spite, and they roll for fun. But eventually they find their niche and gather moss. There are parts of the original action that have not fallen down for several years.

In the light of the wall's winter-weather use as a snow barrier, to slow up winds that sweep in uninterruptedly from the Arctic Circle, this is important. A dornick caught up in a blizzard and hurled at a struggling suburbanite can be dangerous. But it has happened.

The Education Of Nikita Khrushchev

It is an open secret that U.S. Foreign policy calls for a cram course in the education of Nikita Khrushchev. This country believes officially its best bet for peace is to make sure that the premier of Russia does not underestimate the strength of American capitalism.

It believes in this connection that if the No. 1 figure in Russian socialism sees with his own eyes what has been done under a system of people's capitalism — something Karl Marx could not have conceived of — he may simmer down his version of "bury this country.

But the education of Nikita Khrushchev will be no pushover. It will take something more subtle than the rock-'em-sock-'em technique of bowling him over with visits to supermarkets and production lines. Mr. Khrushchev is not an academic sponge thirsting for proof that he has been wrong.

He may come up with some penetrating questions. To be blunt about it, he may be loaded for ideolotical bear when he comes here. For instance, he may want to know about the great steel strike of 1959, particularly if it's still going strong.

Those smokestacks with no smoke coming out of them and those cavernous plants with nothing happening inside them might be one of the sights he would ask to see. Someone had better have an official version ready in advance and everybody would do well to stick to the official script.

It will not be easy to explain why the component elements of people's capitalism go to war with each other — why under this best of all possible systems there must be a protracted bleeding and dying at the expense of workers, managers, owners and the general welfare.

Nor will it be easy to explain why this best of all systems should be a helpless patsy to be mauled like a kitten at a dog show while the government that is supposed to be the referee admonishes the dogs to show a little more restraint. That might make People's Capitalism seem to have homes in its head.

A steel strike in progress during the forthcoming educational tour of Premier Khrushchev is one of a number of challenges that confront his educators, albeit one of the tougher ones. The official version had better be good, because when it comes out there will be many Americans interested in it, too.

There are times when people's capitalism has to fall back on its weaknesses to explain why it ultimately proves to be strong. A nationwide steel strike bleeding hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of value out of U.S. production will be even harder to explain to an unfriendly socialist than it is to explain to use homegrown friendly people's capitalists.

Earning Power Makes The Difference

Whenever a fresh argument breaks out over the pay-as-you-go principle in public spending, someone suggests it makes as much sense for government to borrow now and pay back later, with interest, as for private enterprise to do the same thing.

There is no comparison.

Private enterprise "borrows" money to make money. It pays its interest in the form of profit — and if there is no profit there is no interest. Moreover, if there is no profit the value of the shares held by the stockholders dwindles.

Public spenders do not make money. They spend money.

They may talk about "investment," but it's doubletalk. Public expenditures are not investments.

All the investing is done by corporations, companies, partnerships, individuals and so on that lend money to governments that want to spend more than they have.

They go further than that. They spend more than they will get back, because long-term borrowing is the traditional way to insulate taxpayers against the shock of public spending.

Instead of letting the taxpayers pay on the line and save carrying charges, governments have made a practice of selling long-term bonds to conceal from taxpayers the price of the progress they were demanding.

The net result is more cost and less results, but governments learned long ago that taxpayers have short memories; they forget. They are suckers for the credo that the pain-saving way to cut of a puppy's tail is to do it an inch at a time.

But taxpayers aren't as easy to fool as they used to be. They finally have learned what is wrong with the credo that public debt is money they owe themselves. They owe it to the people who advanced the money in the first place, and that is something much more complicated.

With no way to make money, government must pay back not only as much as it borrows but the additional interest. Hence, the growing attractiveness of the pay-as-you-go procedure, which is nothing more or less than getting more public value out of a taxpayer's buck.

As long as it's the taxpayer who's going to pay anyway, he might as well hold his payments to a minimum, instead of sharing his wealth with interest-charging investors.

The Secret Of Edgar Guest

The only trouble with Edgar Guest, who died in his sleep Thursday morning, was the fact he had to be classified ocupationally as a poet. This elevated the dander of the people who equate poetry with high-brow accomplishments. They resented the uninvited Guest.

He was not a poet, in the high-brow sense. He was a typographical minstrel who performed in rhyme — an entertainer. He knew this, of course, and he held nothing against critics who snooted him as an interloper. For every person reached by the high-brow poets of his generation, he reached a thousand.

They knew what he was trying to say. They got his message. They loved him for delivering it in words, similes and metaphors they could understand. In an era of rabble-rousers hell-bent on mischief, Edgar Guest used his contact with the minds of ordinary people for good purposes.

He comforted them with his preachments and made them feel as if they wanted to be as good as they knew how to be. He let them feel as though their lives were just as important as the lives of the great men that reminded them only of their own inability to leave any footprints on the sands of time.

It is good to know that such a man lived to a few days of his 78th birthday and worked up to the end of his life. He was a newspaperman first, last and always, a credit to a profession he was proud to serve.

The Once Over

Hosses are now at Saratoga and the old Jamaica track has closed for last time. Housing development is in works. Home-sweet-home mood at the race track will seem odd.

Mothers will rock babies where photo finishes once rocked horse players. Husbands will trim hedges where touts used to trim husbands. The milkman will come down stretchrun of yesterday.

The cry of "The bum quit" will greet a slow vegetable-wagon driver instead of a thoroughbred skinner.

A Jamaica home seeker, disappointed because a neighbor's house gets finished ahead of his bungalow, will get the builder's excuse "I got nosed out."

The cry of "They're off!" can mean nothing more than that the apples have fallen from the backyard tree or that an insecticide has driven all the fleas off family hound.

HUNDREDS OF HOMES rising on a spot where for generations people gathered to forget about their firesides seems fantastic. Bungalows and ranch houses where tote boards, starting - gates and judges' stands once stood!

Domestic quarrels where jockeys often battled. "Rockabye Baby," on the Tree Top" drifting across fields where "Boots and Saddles" sounded for decades! ghosts will move through the Jamaica development.

Through the night will be heard "What does Moe like?" and "Are they trying with this one?" If there is a schoolhouse on the site, the kiddies may hear hoofbeats during the spelling lesson and hear whisper, "You lost on the first three lessons today but maybe you break even on the day by winning your arithmetic test."

Jamaica had a homespun quality. It was Belmont without the landscaping and with its shirtfront unbuttoned. Thanks for Saratoga. It's almost the last stronghold of cozy, comfortable, nonpretentious completely relaxed racegoing. The terrible thought is that it, too, will one day be forced to bow out for a housing project, with shopping lists replacing betting odds and housewives replying to "Why are you using the tomato plant spray on the rose bushes?" with simple excuse "I got switched."

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE wants facts released in quiz show "fix" probe by grand jury. It would like to get Judge Schweitzer in an isolation booth and see how he does on a quiz show.

St. Laurent has revived the hobble skirt, knee length, for autumn. He feels that, while there is no novelty in a woman's leg these days, it's worth preserving as an institution.

The University of California has a course in traffic study. It gives credits to students who arrive in classroom the same day they start out. Students get on the dean's list if they complete first few lessons with all fenders intact.

We continue to feel sympathetically these hot days for Jumbo, the elephant taken out of a quiet, comfortable Turin zoo and told, "All we want you to do is cross the Alps!"

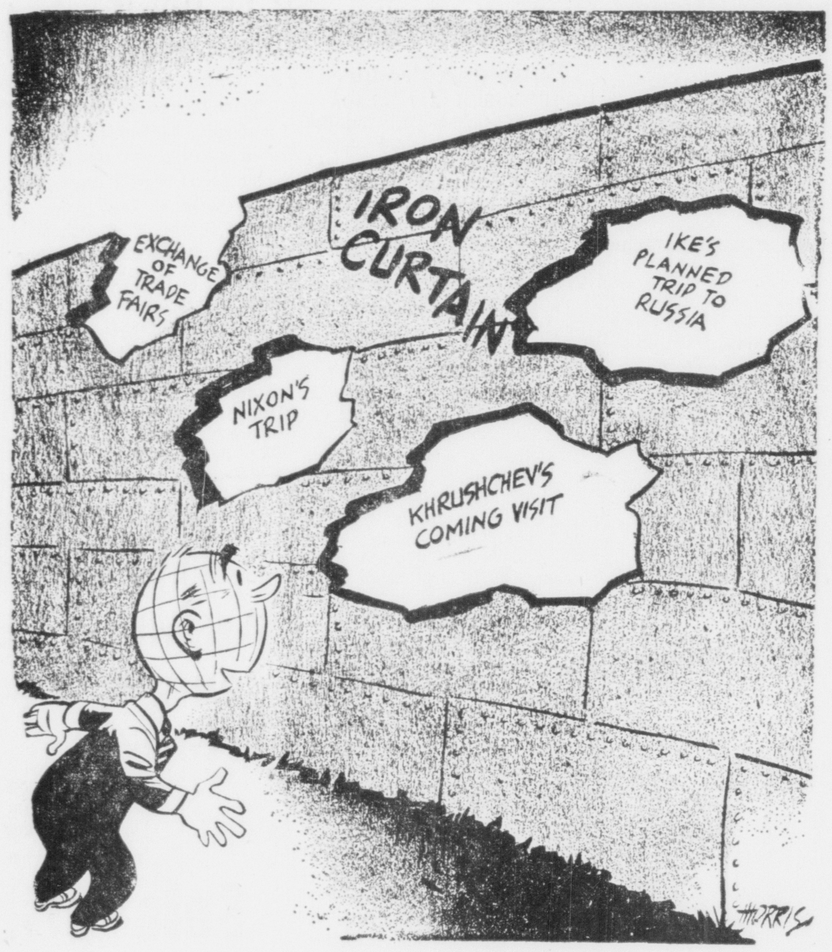
U.S. Army has ordered a task force to make third attempt to destroy 7,000 cases of beer left on Alaskan isle. Gasoline, flames, gunfire and tanks failed in previous efforts. This is clearly a beer that fights back under slogan, "The old brew may die but it never surrenders."

Frisco woman left $600,000 for memorial to dog and $1 to husband. That's what comes when a man refuses to air the pooch or spend hours tossing rubber toy around.

Man and wife landed in New York after 8,700 mile trip from Yankton, N.D., in outboard motorboat. We still think there is much to be said for the little woman who says "You go out on the boat if you like; I'll stay at home with the electric fan."

The oldest animal is generally conceded to be the Galapagos Island tortoise. While figures on the longevity of animals are not very accurate, it is estimated that these giant tortoises live to be as old as 200.

Suddenly It Doesn't Seem So Rust-Proof



African Group Resembles Mau Mau

By Victor Riesel

NAIROBI, Kenya

Virtually everywhere on this continent—as big as Russia and China combined—the search for subversion leads one to chilling secret societies still taking grim blood oaths deep in bush country, high in mountain forests or down in tropical jungles. All of them hate the whites and plan to destroy those African leaders who preach moderation.

Victor Riesel

Mau Mau may be deader than the families they hacked to pieces with long razor-edged pangas or shot down with do-it-yourself guns made of stolen piping. But there is a new secret society carefully working out new terror.

It's the KKT—The Kiama Kia Thayu. Strangely enough it's called the Society of Peace. Intelligence officers here note that the use of the word "peace" in terrorist language is oddly parallel to Communist Aesopian language.

THESE OFFICERS reveal that no one knew the origin of the Mau Mau name. Some thought it sprang from Mao, the leader of the Communist Chinese. Some said it might have evolved simply from some Briton's offhand crack that the old killers walked as softly as cats and people began calling them "meows". Some said it was merely alliterative letters strung together.

But now for the first time there is a propaganda note in the terrorism that has little to do with internal Kenyan matters. The KKT is operating in the Embu area exactly as the Mau Mau and another outfit called KKM did. The new KKT has just been discovered. It's paraphernalia is the same as the stomach-curdling Mau Mau equipment.

So are the killing oaths.

Because of this grimness on the outer edges of civilization, the government insists on maintaining its Mau Mau emergency laws over a considerable part of the key colony—in which Britain is about to begin building a 10-million-dollar military base hooked right into our own defenses.

And these Emergency laws still keep strict control over the Kenya Federation of Labor—led by the 28-year-old Tom Mboya, the one African backed solidly by the AFL-CIO. Oddly enough these laws could also keep unions clean if properly handled by government officials.

THE STATUTES were passed in 1955 to keep unions in line after the Mau Mau had been beaten in the field.

During the Mau Mau emergency the government refused to permit union shop stewards to collect dues in the plants, on the docks, in the hotels and at other concentrations of workers.

Then the security police picked up almost two score labor leaders and put them in detention camps as Mau Mau sympathizers. Some of these are still held among the hundreds accused of being hard core Mau Mau terrorists even today.

The first union dragnet was hauled in by the government in 1953. By 1955 the African unions were reeling. Then the government put its Register of Trade Unions act in final shape. This means that as soon as a union starts collecting dues it must register with the government.

The registrar then examines the union constitution. He has the right to insist that there are democratic by-laws and that the officers are literate in Swahili and English so they can carry on routine business and keep full accounting of funds in regular Westernized books.

The registrar then looks over the field to see if another union already exists in the area being sought by the new outfit. The registrar can rule that there already is an existing union covering the jurisdiction and can refuse the new applicant the right to organize.

THE REGISTRAR, appointed by the governor, can call for the books, minutes and all data and files after he has permitted the union to register and organize. He can dissolve a union if it goes crooked or if it terrorizes firms or employes.

He can de-register a group if it is a paper outfit or if it doesn't operate on the statement of principles it laid out in its application for government approval. Thus a group cannot say it wants to register as a truck union and then organize white collar workers.

The registrar can also dissolve a union for violation of the spirit of the law. This means that he can de-certify a union for being politically active because the law says that a union can dedicate itself only to employer-worker relations. Thus if a union criticizes a piece of legislation or a decision of the authorities it can be dissolved.

Defiance by the union's leaders can bring jail and fines. There are provisions for full secret balloting on strike action, too.

The authorities say that they don't dare permit a union to be captured by a secret terrorist outfit in the future. Tom Mboya retorts that this is a union-busting law. And that if his labor federation and his own influence are broken there will be no moderate force to stand between law and order on one side and violence against the white settlers and the government on the other.

And out in the Ebu wilds, the Kiama Kia Thayu enrolls blood brothers in the "Society of Peace."

They Asked For It

By Raymond Moley

By the way, what became of the noted commentator who wrote last week that Nixon's Polish visit was a mistake in judgment?

He is the same prophet who said in the spring of 1932 that Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt could not possibly succeed in running a campaign for the presidency.

In this contest of fairs, of products for homes, personal adornment and the like, accompanied by visits to the United States by vices-this and deputies-that, the Soviet government fired the first shots. The Hon. Winston Churchill suggested on a famous occasion during the war against Hitler: "What kind of people does he think we are?"

In the present instance, the Kremlin, like Hitler, Kaiser Wilhelm II, and way back to George III and Lord North, apparently utterly failed to understand either the resourcefulness of Americans or the character of their civilization.

IT SEEMS the more strange when we consider the vast sums that the Soviet spends spying on this country, in inspecting its products and copying them and the swarm of official and underground people who have come over here and looked around. Not only may we ask, "What kind of people do they think we are?" but, "what kind of people do they think Russians and Poles are?"

Once upon a time, an official of the United States returned from a mission abroad in which it seemed to some that he had been outsmarted in dealing with foreign diplomats. He was told when he returned: "Well, they took you in, didn't they?"

A good many of our emissaries have been taken in. But apparently, in a spectacular way and in a few days, Nixon has successfully "taken in" Russians and Poles in great numbers. We shall have to look back to the days when Ben Franklin "took in" the French in Paris for a parallel.

It is apparent that the Soviet high command overestimates the ability of the vast majority of people to understand and follow an ideological line.

People generally — and we may make exceptions of those who live in philosophical cages — find it hard or impossible to encompass an idea as complicated as Marxism. They require some visible symbol and attach themselves to that.

It would seem that the Soviet leaders, after their recognition of that limitation in human nature in the elaborate embalming of the earthly lineaments of Lenin and Stalin for perpetual adoration, would realize this fact.

Nor is this limitation of human beings an exclusive trait of Russians and Poles. We Americans would generally be hard put to it to provide a coherent and rational definition of our capitalistic society.

THIS WAS SHOWN some years ago when a series of questions was put to a number of Americans including some that asked whether the questionees favored this or that specific item in the socialist credo. Generally they favored such items but when asked whether they favored socialism, they said, "no."

We have our symbols, too, as our coins and stamps so persistently tell us. So do the British. Note their attachment to a queen or king.

There is something common to all of us — Russians, Poles, Americans, and the rest. We judge a system or party or civilization by what it produces. We like our system because it delivers the goods. And we now find that Russians and Poles like the same kind of goods that we do.

Perhaps this fact may even penetrate the dialectical jungle that is a Communist party leader's brain. When it does, everyone will be happier.

Through The Years

New Steel wheels and plates were riveted to the lower lock of Ohio River Dam No. 7 at Midland.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The 51st semi-annual Dollar Day was held under the auspices of the Retail Merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce, with about 80 firms participating.

Members of the First Baptist Church observed the 40th anniversary of the church.

An estimated 1,500 attended the Homer Laughlin China Co. picnic at Rock Springs Park.

TEN YEARS AGO — About 70 members of the East Liverpool Shrine Club attended a field day at the Highlandtown Country Club.

The Rev. W. M. Cowsert, pastor of the Oakland Free Methodist Church, was elected superintendent of the Rochester District of the Free Methodist Church at the opening session of the Pittsburgh Conference at the Anderson Blvd. campmeeting grounds.

Who Won?

Ike Plays High Card With Khrushchev Visit

A fascinating "poker game" has been going on for several weeks now and the big question is: Who won — Khrushchev or Eisenhower?

The reasons behind the invitation by the President to the Soviet Premier are by no means clear and it is not yet possible to say which one was outmaneuvered.

David Lawrence

But these facts are known — that the Soviet premier wanted a summit conference and the United States didn't, though Britain was favorable and France was somewhat indifferent. The Foreign Ministers Conference at Geneva was devised on the theory that, if any substantial progress were made, this would justify a summit conference.

But Nikita Khrushchev is a stubborn man. He didn't want a foreign ministers conference. He sent his foreign minister to Geneva but with instructions to make no agreements there. Gromyko complied 100 per cent. The idea was to force a summit meeting on the pretense that only the heads of government could negotiate agreements.

Then the Western Allies recessed the Foreign Ministers Conference. President Eisenhower decided on another approach. He thought that maybe an "exploratory" consultation might be held between him and the Soviet Premier.

If Mr. Khrushchev wanted to come to the United States on a visit — it had been said that this was his real reason for pressing for a summit conference — then an invitation to him alone to come to America might serve the broad purpose. At least it would feel out the situation for the United States and then it could be determined whether any progress sufficient to warrant a summit conference had been made.

CORROBORATION of this analysis is to be derived in part from the President's press conference on Monday of this week, when he was asked:

"The impression has somehow been received, Mr. President, in considering a possible visit by Mr. Khrushchev to the United States, that before you would issue an invitation to him, there would have to be some evidence of 'give,' in the sense of 'give and take' on the part of Mr. Khrushchev on Western principles. May we take it that there has been some such indication?"

The President replied:

"No, I can't — I don't think you can say that, Mr. Belair. This is what I have said — that the holding of a summit meeting and negotiation, that that would be, to my mind, absolutely impractical and, as the State Department says, unproductive unless we could count on some positive results. But I would say these, so far as our discussions of mutual problems, are exploratory rather than any attempt at negotiation."

Mr. Eisenhower revealed that "Some time back" he had suggested to the State Department that he believed, "in the effort to melt a little bit of the ice that seems to freeze our relationships with the Soviets, that possibly a visit such as I now have proposed would be useful, and we studied this thing and, in early July, I initiated the correspondence that finally brought about an agreement."

Under the circumstances, it now is apparent just why Foreign Minister Gromyko wouldn't agree to anything at Geneva. As long as a consultation with the President of the United States was being planned, the Soviet government felt that nothing further need be done for the present.

Conversely, it is possible that Mr. Eisenhower hoped his gesture might eventually have a beneficial effect.

APPARENTLY he still held to that view even in his special conference with the press this very week, when he said:

"The visit itself (between Khrushchev and the President) has no direct connection with any possible later summit meeting. I, of course, would hope that the mere announcement would inspire the foreign ministers to a greater activity, and probably some greater effort at conciliation, so that there might be results before Wednesday, when they temporarily adjourn — at least that would justify the scheduling of such a later meeting, at what time I don't know. But in any event, even if they have to reassemble, I would hope they could do that, if they found it reasonable and proper.

"Now I merely want to make clear that this is a personal visit for the purposes that I have outlined, and are given in the statement, but with the hope that it will do something to promote understanding and possibly progress toward peace in the world."

THE KEY PHRASES in that comment are those that say there is "no direct connection" with the later summit meeting and that "this is a personal visit." But the impression is inescapable that the President tried hard to assuage the Soviet Premier with a promise of an exchange of personal visits, hoping that something good in return would come out of the Foreign Ministers Conference at Geneva or later in New York anyway.

There is some reason to believe that the Soviet Premier accepted the President's invitation rather suddenly, for a press association as late as Friday of last week reported as follows:

"The President has told some visitors that an invitation to Khrushchev is like a high card in a poker game, not to be dealt out without something in return. He has referred privately to the Foreign Ministers Meeting as a poker game."

As these lines were written, it was recognized that some move by Moscow that would seem to be a viewpoint might be in the offing.

If it came, the feeling was that this might have justified the maneuverings on both sides. If it didn't come, Mr. Eisenhower was represented as still hopeful of an eventual change for the better on the issues raised at the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference.

Trustee, clerk and constable posts in Columbiana County townships will be at stake when voters go to the polls Nov. 3.

A total of 14 candidates filed for the 64 posts before the deadline Wednesday afternoon, the County Election Board said.

Liverpool Township is the only one of 19 in the county which won't elect a clerk at the fall balloting. Because it is a part of the city of Wellsville, Wellsville Township voters elect only constables.

Racing Commission Splits Over Letter By Chairman

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A letter written by Thomas R. Lloyd, chairman of the Racing Commission, drew fire from the other two members of the commission Friday.

Lloyd was asking all racing permit holders for an itemized list, in affidavit form, of expenditures which might in some way be connected with the racing legislation enacted by the General Assembly. The commissioner said he heard rumors of heavy spending by track operators to influence favorable legislation.

However, Commissioners Otto G. Elliott and Garrett S. Claypool objected to the letter, saying it looked as though they, too, were asking for the information. They said they hadn't learned of the letter until reading Wednesday's newspapers.

The two submitted a resolution to the effect that, if anything improper is evidenced, it should be turned over to the attorney general. The resolution was adopted.

In other action the commission:

Agreed to let Grandview Raceway, Inc., at Solon hold its Aug. 8-Sept. 29 meet at Northfield Park on the Summit-Cuyahoga county line. Grandview's grandstand burned several months ago.

Agreed, following legislative decision, to transfer operations of Cranwood Raceway (Cleveland Raceways, Inc.) at Warrensville Heights to Thistledown Jockey Club, Inc. at North Randall. Both tracks are south of Cleveland. Cranwood has a Sept. 11-Oct. 31 meet. Thistledown's was May 27-July 15.

Allowed Lebanon Raceway to move up its meet to start Sept. 11, so it will close one day before the Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Sept. 24.

Agreed to advertise a proposed rule (for public hearing in about 30 days) to ban racing in Ohio on Good Friday.

Decided to ask the Ninth District Court of Appeals to dissolve its July order which permits Kenneth J. Pressler, of Orrville, to work as a pari-mutuel clerk. A commission denial of a 1959 permit to Pressler was reversed by Judge Adrian W. Miller of Wayne County Common Pleas Court.

Pressler obtained an order permitting him to work while the commission appealed to the district court. The commission contends the court has no jurisdiction to issue such an order and wants the matter set for hearing.

Nixon's Tour Being Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) —The end of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's historic trip to the Soviet Union touched off today an intense appraisal of its impact on the cold war.

President Eisenhower and Nixon banked on the vice president's tour and the forthcoming swap of visits by Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to help thaw a dangerous East-West freeze.

The administration policy was admittedly a gamble, taken against advice from some U. S. strategists who favor continued isolation of the Reds as the surest way to promote the free world.

The hope was that the exchange of visits would impress Khrushchev with America and keep East-West discussions going in the face of the collapse of the Geneva talks on Germany. But Nixon's trip brought no expectation of any immediate turnabout in Kremlin policy in the cold war, which the administration figures could last another 25 to 50 years.

Nixon, who already had cabled back lengthy reports during his two-week tour of the Soviet Union and Poland, made a personal report to Eisenhower during a 75-minute conference at the White House Wednesday.

He will review the trip again at a Cabinet meeting Friday.

There was no immediate plan for a public address to the nation, but Nixon spoke informally on a national radio-TV broadcast after his sleek jetliner had arrived from Warsaw Wednesday.

He told of friendly receptions he had received among the people of the two countries, and said they want peace. He urged also that Khrushchev, when he visits this country, be received courteously and without hostile demonstrations.

Nixon hurried to the White House after a roaring airport welcome. Eisenhower was not at the airport, but among the police-estimated throng of 3,500 greeters were administration and Republican bigwigs and the ambassadors from the Soviet Union and Poland.

GOP boosters waved a big sign: "All America is proud of Pat and Dick."

Cat Set In His Ways, According To Owner

BUDD LAKE, N. J. (AP) — Viewing television and reading newspapers has become increasingly difficult for Mrs. John Bartholomae. Remi, her Siamese cat, disapproves.

"He'll stalk around the house pouting if I watch television," Mrs. Bartholomae says. "And if I persist, he takes a swipe at me with his claw."

When she tries to read a newspaper, Remi jumps into her lap and settles himself on the paper, she says.

But then Remi has a right to be rather set in his ways. He's 20 years old which, according to one theory, makes him 140 in cat years.

Woman Uses Needle, Thread For Portraits

Georgetown, Ky. (AP) — Miss Ellen Duffy draws pictures of famous persoalities. She doesn't use pencil, pen or charcoal, though.

Her portraits — which include Mrs. Eisenhower, Will Rogers and Princess Margarct--are done with a needle, thread and "just ordinary white Swiss goods."

She says she copies pictures of the personalities from newspapers and magazines, traces them on the cloth, then stitches the portraits.

Sleep At Table Lands Youngster In Hospital

Patterson Foundry & Machine Co., is the father of two and resides on Gilson Ave. He originally was elected to serve two years of an unexpired term and then was named to a regular term.

In Wellsville, Richard R. Grills, who sought the post unsuccessfully two years ago, was a last-minute entrant to oppose Earl A. Bake, incumbent and board president, Charles W. Glass and Richard S. Rowe.

Grills, art director of the W. C. Bunting Co., is a graduate of Miami University of Ohio and formerly taught high school six years.

Active in civic affairs, he is a member of the Wellsville Civic Improvement Council and its Board of Directors, Kiwanis Club, American Legion Post, Chamber of Commerce and First Methodist Church, all of Wellsville.

He attended the State House Conference on Education at Columbus last year as the representative of the board and Wellsville residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Grills, the former Doris Foultner, have three sons of school age and reside at 504 Aten Ave.

Atty. William L. Bush and Donald Wellington did not file for new terms.

Jack Pozenel of West Point and R. J. Schiff of St. Clair Ave. filed for new terms on the Beaver Local Board late yesterday along with George R. Wilkinson of Oakmont.

Voters in the Southern Local district, which includes the former Yellow Creek, Salineville and Wayne districts, will choose among six candidates for three four-year terms and pick two of three aspirants for two-year terms.

Fairfield - Waterford School District voters also will face a lengthy ballot with six candidates entered for three seats. The district also will vote on a petition which, in effect, would dissolve the district and at the same time will cast ballots on a $590,000 bond issue for a new high school and renewal of a 4-mill operating levy.

Two candidates for the County Board of Education — Elizabeth C. Strabley of Salineville and Daniel P. Furey of Hanoverton — are unopposed but voters will settle other board contests in Lisbon, Columbiana, Leetonia, and Salem districts and Franklin Local district will elect one member through a write-in campaign. John Dangelo filed for a new term but Roy McKarns did not seek re-election.

Here's the complete list of school district candidates with the number to be elected in parentheses:

East Liverpool (3): C. Walter Ashbaugh, James B. Moss, James Lowe and Judson M. Allison.

East Palestine (2): James J. Akenhead and Roy S. Blackburn Jr.

Salem (3): Gail C. Herron, Bryce W. Kendall, Orein A. Naragon and Stephen Gonda.

Wellsville (3): Earl A. Bake, Charles W. Glass, Richard S. Rowe and Richard R. Grills.

Cat Set In His Ways, According To Owner

BUDD LAKE, N. J. (AP) — Viewing television and reading newspapers has become increasingly difficult for Mrs. John Bartholomae. Remi, her Siamese cat, disapproves.

"He'll stalk around the house pouting if I watch television," Mrs. Bartholomae says. "And if I persist, he takes a swipe at me with his claw."

When she tries to read a newspaper, Remi jumps into her lap and settles himself on the paper, she says.

But then Remi has a right to be rather set in his ways. He's 20 years old which, according to one theory, makes him 140 in cat years.

Woman Uses Needle, Thread For Portraits

Georgetown, Ky. (AP) — Miss Ellen Duffy draws pictures of famous persoalities. She doesn't use pencil, pen or charcoal, though.

Her portraits — which include Mrs. Eisenhower, Will Rogers and Princess Margaret--are done with a needle, thread and "just ordinary white Swiss goods."

She says she copies pictures of the personalities from newspapers and magazines, traces them on the cloth, then stitches the portraits.

Khrushchev Visit To U.S. May Speed Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may accomplish something congressional leaders are having difficulty doing.

He may speed up final adjournment of the present session of Congress.

While the exact dates for the Soviet leader's visit to the United States and for the adjournment of Congress are indefinite, there is one thing certain. Congressional leaders don't want to be in session when Khrushchev arrives in Washington.

They have no heart for a joint meeting of the Senate and the House to hear Khrushchev. The absenteeism might be so noticeable as to create international hard feelings.

Khrushchev's visit tentatively has been set for about the middle of September. Mid-September also has been mentioned as the likely date for adjournment of Congress, unless a speed-up in the work schedule is effected.

The speed-up now is in the making, and the current adjournment target date is Sept. 5, leaving a respectable interlude between the time members of Congress depart and Khrushchev arrives. To leave a shorter interval might be interpreted as a deliberate attempt by the legislators to avert a meeting with their chief.

Apparently, avoiding such a meeting is exactly what members of Congress want to do.

Many members feel that it would be inconsistent for them to sit decorously around and listen to a speech by Khrushchev after having spent a large part of their congressional life blasting communism. They probably wouldn't show up.

There is ample precedent for Khrushchev to be invited to address a joint meeting if Congress is in session when he arrives. While such meetings normally are reserved for heads of state — such as kings, or queens, or presidents — the rule has been waived in the past.

Utility To Expand Gas Storage Area

Plans for spending $2½ million for immediate expansion of six key underground gas storage fields, including one north of Lisbon, were announced today by the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co.

The program calls for drilling and reconditioning 59 wells in original natural gas formations in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and the Brinker field in Center, Salem, Fairfield and Elkrun townships in Columbiana County.

The project will reinforce cold weather natural gas deliveries to more than 300,000 customers in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The other fields are located in Washington and Greene Counties in Pennsylvania and Marshall and Wetzel Counties in West Virginia.

The compressor station for the Brinker field is located on Route 164 about 3 miles north of Lisbon.

He taught last term at Reader (W.Va.) high school and was also basketball coach. He is also a Navy veteran of 33 months.

He will teach biology and will be assistant in football and basketball. Mr. and Mrs. Hackett expect to arrive in Lisbon around Aug. 27.

Preston Sturges Dies At 61; Producer, Writer, Director

NEW YORK (AP) — Preston Sturges, onetime top Hollywood producer, writer and director who authored a Broadway hit play, died here today of a heart attack.

Chicago - born Sturges, who would have been 61 Aug. 28, died in his room at the Hotel Algonquin — a favored hostelry of theatrical folk—where he had resided several months.

Sturges' play "Strictly Dishonorable," which later was made into a movie, was a smash hit on Broadway. Produced in 1929, the play ran for two years.

Sturges' fourth wife, Anne Margaret Nagle who is known as actress Sandy Mellen, was reported to be in Hollywood.

Sturges had a hard time crashing Hollywood, where he went in 1932 as a writer for Universal International. But he hit the filmland jackpot in the late 1930s after he had offered to sell Paramount a script for $10—if he could direct the movie.

Paramount accepted, and the result was "The Great McGinty." A political satire starring Brian Donlevy, the picture won Sturges an academy award for the best screen play of 1940.

Sturges reached his Hollywood zenith in the late 30s and early 40s.

After a series of movie flops, Sturges formed a partnership with Howard Hughes. The venture ended after a dispute over the film "Vendetta," a costly failure.

Sturges left Hollywood about 10 years ago and went to New York and Europe.

RECIPE FOR HEALTH

A prescription is a recipe for health. It represents a physician's scientific diagnosis and careful decision as to the best method of treating a particular illness. The responsibility imposed upon a physician in diagnosing illness and prescribing treatment is equal to the value given life.

Second only to the responsibility of the physician is the responsibility of the pharmacist who compounds and dispenses the prescribed medication. This is a responsibility which Herche's is especially well prepared to accept.

RECIPE FOR HEALTH

A prescription is a recipe for health. It represents a physician's scientific diagnosis and careful decision as to the best method of treating a particular illness. The responsibility imposed upon a physician in diagnosing illness and prescribing treatment is equal to the value given life.

Second only to the responsibility of the physician is the responsibility of the pharmacist who compounds and dispenses the prescribed medication. This is a responsibility which Herche's is especially well prepared to accept.

4 Are Enrolled In Newell Post

Four new members were enrolled in Newell American Legion Post 114 at a meeting Wednesday evening.

They are Everett Meeks of New Cumberland, Thurman Barron of Chester, Roger Young of East Liverpool and Donald Campbell of Newell.

The post approved a proposal to enlarge its office to provide more space for office equipment. Bids for the remodeling are being accepted, Tony LaNeve, adjutant, said. The purchase of an addressograph and a mimeograph machine was authorized.

Reports were heard from delegates to the recent department convention at Parkersburg. The 40 & 8 Society was granted use of the post home for its promenade Sunday, Aug. 16.

The annual post picnic will be held Aug. 22 at the upper pavilion at Tomilson Run State Park.

Elected to the executive committee were Arthur DeLong, Allan Coen and Carl Durham. Others include Paul Mosher, commander, LaNeve, adjutant, Harry Lytton, finance officer, and James Burch, first vice commander.

Standing committees and their chairmen appointed by Mosher include George LaNeve, auditing and membership records; Donald DeLong, social; Walter Franczek, greeting, and Edward Hupp, house.

Next meeting will be Aug. 19 at 8 p. m. in the post home.

Hancock Group Seeks Classroom Instructor

The North Hancock County Council for Retarded Children is seeking a qualified teacher for special classes this fall for area children after the County Board of Education told representatives Tuesday that a classroom would be made available.

The Board of Education told Anthony F. Laneve, council president, and John Brown that a classroom would be arranged in the addition to Newell Jefferson School. However, no teacher has been found available as yet, it was reported.

Laneve and Brown reported on the classroom project at a meeting Tuesday in the Chester American Legion home. Plans were made for a membership drive with letters to be sent by mail this week. Mrs. Laneve and Mrs. Ann Smusz are in charge.

The next meeting is Sept. 1.

4 Motorists Forfeit

LISBON — Four area drivers forfeited bonds total ing $40 Wednesday when they failed to appear before Mayor John Todd.

They were Joseph F. Gallo, 24, of E. Chestnut St., and Agnes A. Ford of R. D. 4, $10 each for stop sign violations. Darrell L. Dillard, 18, of R. D. 2, $10 for speeding and Richard R. Moore, 19, of Elkton, $10 for reckless operation. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

New Book By Andre Maurois Tells Of Penicilin Discoverer

The incisive mind of a Frenchman, Andre Maurois, has just produced an absorbing portrayal of "The Life of Sir Alexander Fleming, Discoverer of Penicilin," which is among new books at the Carnegie Public Library.

Miss Frances Jones, librarian, said Maurois, who is best known for writing the lives of famous literary and political figures such as George Sand and Victor Hugo, does a surprisingly good job of etching in in the many-faceted character of this ideal research worker.

Though Fleming was typical of many of his fellow Scotsmen in his long silences, he was also a great hobbyist and gamesman — loving golf, gardening, fishing, collecting and art. When he became enamored with the potentialities of mold in his development of penicilin, he often obtained rotten old shoes from artist friends in Chelsea as a source of materials.

A German, Joachim Leithauser, chronicles the revolution in technology in a history of invention which commences with the Egyptians. Automation is the climax in his history called, "Inventor's Progress." Two recent developments by English scientists are described in new library additions:

"Fine Particle Measurement" by Dallvalle and "Big Molecules" by Sir Harry Melville. The latter are responsible for converting sea water into drinking water. In the field of communication, H. N. Gant has a practical volume on "Mobile Radio Telephones." Teen - agers who like to experiment with science will find a wealth of ideas in Harry Zarchy's "Using Electronics." He shows simplified phases of radio, solar batteries and vacuum tubes.

A Georgia Tech professor tells the story of the atmosphere and what it means to man in terms of climate and weather, jet streams, pollution and travel in "Between Earth and Space." He proposes interesting theories about the origins of flying saucers — indicating that they may be reflections on clouds and mock suns. The author is Clyde M. Orr.

Derek Piggott, who has been the frequent instructor of the Duke of Edinburgh, has written a handbook on soaring flight called "Gliding." A former U. S. Army Intelligence Officer has compiled an illustrated guide to "U. S. Missiles and Rockets." It includes in addition to fine photography, brief factual descriptions of range, armament and size.

Carroll and Mildred Fenton have prepared an exciting story of plants, animals and lesser creatures during the past 2 billion years in "The Fossil Book." A study of weights and measures in early days has now been made available by A. E. Berriman in "Historical Metrology." Three compelling books on anthropology are to be found on this week's new book shelf: "The Road to Man," by Herbert Wendt; "Codfish, Cats, and Civilization," by Gary Webster, and "Millions of Years Ago," by Edwin S. Colbert.

Several additions to the library of late reveal the lure of adventure: an American family in Portugal has numerous humorous experiences — the author is the father, Leonard Wibberley, and his title is "No Garlic In the Soup." Doug Wilkinson goes to live with the Eskimos in "Land of the Long Day." Helen Rait, the wife of an oceanographer, tells of life on the islands in "Exploring the Deep Pacific."

For escape from the humidity, the library recommends Paul Gallico's "Ludmilla," a legend of Liechtenstein, and Rube Goldberg's "How to Remove the Cotton from a Bottle of Aspirin."

Soil Bank Information Awaited In Hancock

Hancock County farmers interested in the conservation reserve of the soil bank program for the 1960 crop season will be able to obtain full information at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in New Cumberland after mid-August.

This is the fifth year for the conservation reserve under which farmers contract to withdraw general cropland from production and protect it with conservation uses for a period of 3 to 10 years.

County farm office workers will have full details on the program, according to C. C. Herron of Pughtown, chairman. The basic national rate of payment will be $13.50, the same as in 1959.

For use in baking, brown sugar should be packed so firmly into the measuring cup that when the sugar is turned out it will keep its shape. This method assures an accurate measure of the sugar.

South Side Legion. Auxiliary Will Install

New officers of South Side Memorial American Legion Post 952 and its auxiliary will be installed at a joint meeting Friday at 8 p. m. in the Hookstown post home.

Tony Rico, Legion district 26 commander of Harrisville, Pa., will install the men. Mrs. Esther Stouffer of Beaver Falls, director of auxiliaries in Western Pennsylvania, will install auxiliary officers.

This will take the place of the meeting Aug. 12 of the post, Jack Moore, adjutant, said. Paul Leeper, commander, will preside.

Man Slays 3, Wounds Self

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Columbus man killed his estranged wife, her aunt and uncle with a shotgun late Wednesday night, police said. He then turned the gun on himself, blasting a hole in his chest, but he still clung to life early today.

Dead are Mrs. Virginia Samuels, 39; Mrs. Sallie King, 49, and Charles King, 47, who lived on Columbus' East Side.

Their assailant was William Samuels, 40.

Police, summoned by neighbors, found one of the women in the bedroom of the house. The others were sprawled on the kitchen floor.

The 12-gauge shotgun, its stock held together by adhesive tape, lay on the kitchen table.

Neighbors said that Mrs. Samuels had been living with her aunt and uncle.

Unexplained was a relatively new shotgun propped against the kitchen wall. Indications were that it had not been fired. Neither were investigators able to explain how Samuels was able to fire and reload his weapon so rapidly that none of the victims could escape.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, Franklin County coroner, said Samuels stood little chance for survival. Detectives were at St. Anthony Hospital waiting to question the man should his condition permit.

New Battle Draws Near On Civil Rights Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new civil rights bill was headed today into a brisk congressional scrimmage.

Southerners want to kill it by delay. Democratic leaders hope to get party-bruising fights behind them this year, rather than battle over the issue just in advance of next year's elections.

The House Rules Committee, which has wide powers to, speed or slow legislation, has the next word. It may act next week on a civil rights bill completed Wednesday by a divided Judiciary Committee. Southerners are well-entrenched in the Rules Committee, but the group frequently yields in a showdown to the wishes of the Democratic leadership.

Most Democrats outside the South want to go into 1960, a presidential election year, with any wounds over civil rights healed and with a record of having strengthened the existing laws.

Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has said little, but is believed to feel the Democratic-controlled Congress must take some action.

The Judiciary Committee voted for a five-point civil rights bill-trimmed well below the original versions ofered both by Northern Democrats and by President Eisenhower's administration. But the House bill still is more sweeping than the bobtailed version now before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which has just started working over the recommendations of a subcommittee.

Trucker And Autoist Unhurt In Collision

A Lisbon R. D. 4 trucker and a Beaver Falls autoist were unhurt in a collision Wednesday at 9 p. m. near the intersection of Routes 151 and 168 in South Beaver Township, some 13 miles west of Beaver Falls, State Police reported.

Police said the car was driven by Patricia C. Wooley, 19, and the truck by Lawrence W. Fisher, 26.

The mishap is still being investigated, the Rochester barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said. There was about $100 damage to the truck and $175 to the car.

Survives Train Blow

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A car driven by Mrs. Bryant A. Doyle, 36, of nearby Cuyahoga Falls, was hit by a Baltimore & Ohio train and knocked 300 yards down the tracks Wednesday. She suffered head and shoulder injuries, but her condition was reported as fair afterwards.

Irondale

Mrs. Mae Griffith and daughters of Columbiana visited last weekend with Mrs. Florence Benner and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seevers and family. They were accompanied home by Howard Seevers.

The Margaret Pool Circle of the Methodist Church will hold a family coverdish picnic Tuesday evening at 6 at Smart's Park.

2 Are Mentioned In Court Vacancy

CLEVELAND (AP) — At least two names are being mentioned as possible appointees to the federal bench here.

Sumner Canary, former district attorney for northern Ohio, and G. E. Kalbfleisch, Richland County common pleas judge, are being mentioned as possible successors to Judge Paul C. Weick.

Weick was nominated Wednesday by President Eisenhower to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, which has headquarters in Cincinnati.

But one county Republican chairman, whose recommendation would be considered, said the choice is wide open.

Anthony L. (Sonny) De Maioribis, party chairman for Cuyahoga County, says "The field is wide open. I know that Sumner Canary is interested in the post. I also am aware that Judge Kalbfleisch at one time wanted a federal judgeship. I have no one in mind to recommend for the post at this time."

Man Slays 3, Wounds Self

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Columbus man killed his estranged wife, her aunt and uncle with a shotgun late Wednesday night, police said. He then turned the gun on himself, blasting a hole in his chest, but he still clung to life early today.

Dead are Mrs. Virginia Samuels, 39; Mrs. Sallie King, 49, and Charles King, 47, who lived on Columbus' East Side.

Their assailant was William Samuels, 40.

Police, summoned by neighbors, found one of the women in the bedroom of the house. The others were sprawled on the kitchen floor.

The 12-gauge shotgun, its stock held together by adhesive tape, lay on the kitchen table.

Neighbors said that Mrs. Samuels had been living with her aunt and uncle.

Unexplained was a relatively new shotgun propped against the kitchen wall. Indications were that it had not been fired. Neither were investigators able to explain how Samuels was able to fire and reload his weapon so rapidly that none of the victims could escape.

Plaque To Be Presented

Lawrenceville Legion Post To Cite Past Commanders

Presentation of a plaque bearing the names of all past commanders of Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 is scheduled at a party honoring former commanders Aug. 14 at the post home.

The plaque will be permanently displayed at the home, and there will be space for additional names.

Martin Dennis, who headed a committee to organize the post in 1950, was the first commander. The unit received its charter Jan. 8, 1951, with 66 members. It now has 116.

Named commanders in the following years were Charles Laughlin, Harold Waide, Lewis Marshall, William Stoffell, William Schladen, William Wright (two terms), Franklin Haught, Charles Huffman and Leroy Dunham, present commander.

The first post home was established over the garage of Walter Pepin. Later the former Marshall building in Tinsonville was converted into a club, and finally a site adjacent to the present fire station was purchased and a building erected by voluntary help. It was first occupied in 1958, and improvement is continuing.

A new addition has been authorized.

The post has offered the home for civic meetings, sponsors baseball teams and takes part in various community activities. The auxiliary has also supported the post projects and conducts its own civic activities.

The post is chartered in the name of Racy Withington and Harold Clair Hallowell, who were killed while in the armed services overseas.

Mental Health Group Reports Clothing Aid

The Dixie Duds Shop at Dixmont Mental Hospital near Pittsburgh has furnished 144 complete outfits for women and 56 for men in 3 months of operation, Miss Bernice Philip of Beaver Falls, a volunteer worker, said.

The shop takes no money from patients and is used by those who have no families to provide attractive apparel.

The Beaver County Mental Health Society, which supports the clothing program at Dixmont, encourages residents of the county to save good clean clothing, even underwear, as well as shoes, hats and jewelry for the shop.

The society said "it is bad enough to be mentally ill and forgotten by family and friends. It is still worse to wear institutional garb. The desire to get well, to look one's best can be completely snuffed. This is why the society supports this program so heartily."

Plaque To Be Presented

Lawrenceville Legion Post To Cite Past Commanders

Presentation of a plaque bearing the names of all past commanders of Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 is scheduled at a party honoring former commanders Aug. 14 at the post home.

The plaque will be permanently displayed at the home, and there will be space for additional names.

Martin Dennis, who headed a committee to organize the post in 1950, was the first commander. The unit received its charter Jan. 8, 1951, with 66 members. It now has 116.

Named commanders in the following years were Charles Laughlin, Harold Waide, Lewis Marshall, William Stoffell, William Schladen, William Wright (two terms), Franklin Haught, Charles Huffman and Leroy Dunham, present commander.

The first post home was established over the garage of Walter Pepin. Later the former Marshall building in Tinsonville was converted into a club, and finally a site adjacent to the present fire station was purchased and a building erected by voluntary help. It was first occupied in 1958, and improvement is continuing.

A new addition has been authorized.

The post has offered the home for civic meetings, sponsors baseball teams and takes part in various community activities. The auxiliary has also supported the post projects and conducts its own civic activities.

The post is chartered in the name of Racy Withington and Harold Clair Hallowell, who were killed while in the armed services overseas.

Mental Health Group Reports Clothing Aid

The Dixie Duds Shop at Dixmont Mental Hospital near Pittsburgh has furnished 144 complete outfits for women and 56 for men in 3 months of operation, Miss Bernice Philip of Beaver Falls, a volunteer worker, said.

The shop takes no money from patients and is used by those who have no families to provide attractive apparel.

The Beaver County Mental Health Society, which supports the clothing program at Dixmont, encourages residents of the county to save good clean clothing, even underwear, as well as shoes, hats and jewelry for the shop.

The society said "it is bad enough to be mentally ill and forgotten by family and friends. It is still worse to wear institutional garb. The desire to get well, to look one's best can be completely snuffed. This is why the society supports this program so heartily."

Indians Split Pair With Senators; Trail Chicago By Two

Billy Martin Injured When Hit By Pitch

WASHINGTON (AP)—At a crucial point in the American League pennant race, the second - place Cleveland Indians have lost second baseman Billy Martin for the stretch drive.

Martin, who had hit safely in eight straight games, was struck on the left side of the face on a pitch by Washington's Tex Clevenger Wednesday night. He suffered a fractured left jaw and cheekbone and doctors figure he will be sidelined for four to six weeks.

The Indians split their doubleheader with the Senators and remained two games behind Chicago.

Cleveland exploded for six runs in the seventh inning of the opener to win 7-3. The Senators snapped their 18-game losing spell in the nightcap, however, on a 9-0 shutout by Clevenger.

The loss of Martin is especially costly, since Cleveland has a shortage of infielders. Vic Power also was hurt Wednesday night, getting a sprained right thumb and a spike wound on his right forearm when Lenny Green slid into him at third base.

Power's injury is not considered serious, though, and he probably will be back in action tonight when Cleveland plays the final game of the four-game series with the Senators.

Gary Bell (11-9) is slated to pitch for the Tribe against Russ Kemmerer (5-11).

Martin, first batter in the nightcap, was carried off the field on a stretcher. At Georgetown University Hospital for an indefinite period, he underwent immediate plastic surgery and had the broken bones in his face wired.

Martin drove in the tying and winning runs in the opener with a bases-loaded single. It enabled Jim Grant (7-4) to post his 10th straight victory over the Senators over two seasons.

In the second game, the Senators tallied six times in the fifth inning off loser Cal McLish (13-5) and Bobby Locke. The big blow was a three-run homer by Harmon Killebrew, his 34th. Three Indians errors led to three unearned markers.

The Indians got only seven hits off Clevenger (5-2), making his first start after 33 relief appearances.

In the opener Strickland triggered the Indians' big scoring bust with his third homer of the season. Rookie Zorro Versalles and Jim Lemon homered for the Senators.

Tito Francona had two hits in eight trips in the two games and saw his averaged slip six points to .410.

Clevenger Breaks Nats' Long Losing String At 18

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Truman for President! That is the new cry in Washington.

They mean Clevenger, not Harry, as the Truman of their dreams for he is the man who broke the Senators' 18-game losing streak.

Cookie Lavagetto was a desperate man after watching his Senators tie a club mark by dropping their 18th straight in the first game of a doubleheader Wednesday night. The modern major league record of 20 was just around the corner.

Cookie finally settled on Clevenger, a 27-year-old son of Visalia, Calif., who had not started all season. Clevenger had shown enough in 33 relief appearances to convince Lavagetto, who by this time didn't need much convincing after watching his other pitchers.

All that Clevenger did was to throw his first big league shutout, a seven hit 9-0 job at the second-place Cleveland Indians and the streak was over. It was the Senators' first victory since the first game of a July 19 doubleheader.

Harmon Killebrew woke up, too. He hit his first home run since July 27, (No. 34), and pushed his runs batted in total to 85. Both figures are tops in the American League.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant handed Washington its 18th defeat in the opener 7-3 as the Indians scored six runs in the seventh inning. Cal McLish, the man General Manager Frank Lane criticized Casey Stengel for pitching in the All - Star game, lost the second.

There was no change in the pennant race. Chicago also split a twi - nighter in Baltimore, holding tight to its two-game lead. Barry Latman shutout the Orioles with three hits in the 2-0 opener but Baltimore took advantage of Early Wynn's shaky pitching and five White Sox errors to grab the second game 7-1 behind Arnold Portocarrero.

New York finally beat Yankee-killer Don Mossi after bowing five times to the talented left-hander. Little Bobby Shantz fired a five-hit shutout and Mickey Mantle hit his 22nd home run with a man on for 3-0 victory.

Cary Geiger drove in six runs and Frank Malzone knocked in five as Boston clubbed Kansas City 17-6. Geiger hit a three-run homer, a two-run double and batted in anogher with a triple. Malzone hit his 16th and 17th homers, a double and a single. Ike Delock, second of three Boston pitchers, was the winner over rookie Howard Reed who replaced Johnny Kucks in the first.

Furniture City Captures Two Straight To Win Minor Crown

Furniture City has won the championship of the Little Minor League by taking two straight from Coca Cola in the best two of three series.

Furniture City scored a 13-6 victory Wednesday to grab the championship.

The winners collected 11 hits, with Dave Alford leading the way with 4. Alford had four straight singles. His brother Colan Alford helped the cause with a pair of doubles.

Dave Alford also was the pitching star, allowing only four hits and fanning nine Coca Cola batters.

J. Welch belted a home run and a double for the losers.

Curve Ball Helps Giants' Sanford

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jack Sanford's humming fast ball remains his stock in trade, but the big right-hander also has developed an effective curve.

That curve could prove of major value to the San Francisco Giants in their bid for the National League pennant.

Against the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday, the count was three balls and two strikes to Del Crandall when Sanford spun the curve for strike three.

"In past seasons I never have thrown the curve in a three and two situation," Sanford said. "Now I'm getting more confidense in it and the curve breaks a little better."

It also can baffle opposing batters who peg the 29-year-old as strictly a fireball thrower off his past two seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies.

As he beat the Braves, 4-1, scattering eight hits, Sanford mixed in the curve and change-ups.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Willie McCovey, Giants, drove in three runs with two homers as San Francisco regained National League lead by downing Milwaukee 4-1.

Pitching — Truman Clevenger, Senators, broke Washington's 18-game losing streak by shutting out Cleveland 9-0 in his first start after 33 relief appearances.

Akron Pounds Out 19-4 Win Over Locals

The East Liverpool Pony League All-Stars came to the end of the tournament trail when a hard-hitting Akron team exploded for a 19-4 victory Wednesday at Ashland in the area eliminations.

East Liverpool winners of the district tournament, lost its second straight to the strong Akron squad in the best of a three-game series.

Akron accumulated 13 hits, including four home runs.

East Liverpool was out of contention after the third inning when Akron built up a 10-0 lead on four runs in the second inning and six in the third.

Akron kept up the pace by scoring three more in the fourth, two in the sixth and four in the seventh.

East Liverpool scored three runs in the fourth inning on Eddie Pruden's home run with two teammates aboard.

Phil Wilfred, the southpaw who stopped East Liverpool in the first game, hurled the first three innings Wednesday and fanned four batters. He was relieved by Buchs, who finished up the pitching chores.

Pruden started for East Liverpool, with Jim Tridico and Dave Myer following him to the mound. Pruden was charged with the loss after hurling three innings.

Lange walloped two home runs and a single to pace the Akron nine, while Wilfred helped his own cause by driving in five runs with a triple and double.

Pruden had two of East Liverpool's five hits.

Liston Stops Valdes Early

CHICAGO (AP) — Pep Barone, manager of heavyweight Sonny Liston, is in a quandary.

"I've got a contender and can't get anywhere with him," he said. "I don't think that Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson rematch will ever come off. I think the Swede won't defend his title for some time and nobody will put pressure on him to do it.

"Why don't they let my boy fight Patterson? For that matter, why won't Zora Foley (the No. 2 contender) fight my boy? Things are really messed up."

Liston, a 211-pounder, knocked out Nino Valdes, another 211-pounder, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round nationally televised scrap in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

A left hook to the jaw, a left-right combination and then a steaming right cross sent the big Cuban sprawling. He nearly got up at the count of 10, but not quite. He was a 6-1 underdog.

It was Liston's 18th straight victory, 16 by knockouts, and he now has won 25 out of 26 starts.

Playoff Berths Getting Attention In International

By The Associated Press

Since Buffalo shows no sign of weakening its eight-game hold on first place in the International League, eyes are focusing on the battle for playoff berths among the other seven teams.

Only five games separate second-place Havana and last place Rochester, with the remaining five teams bunched closely in between.

Rochester defeated Havana Wednesday night 8-2. Third-place Richmond won a doubleheader from Toronto, 7-3 and 5-3, to move within two games of the Cubans. Montreal stayed one percentage point ahead of Columbus in fourth place, though it lost 9-7 to the Jets. Both are 2½ games out of second.

Buffalo lost to Miami, 5-4 in the other IL game.

Tom Burgess' two-run homer (No. 21) helped Columbus, and Burgess scored the deciding run on John Jaciuk's triple in the sixth inning. Joe Gibbon (12-7) was the winner.

Football Cards Roll Over Team Of Canadian League

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

It is doubtful whether Toronto Coach Hamp Pool meant to be taken so literally by the Chicago Cardinals when he said he welcomed the chance to play the National Football League club because of the use of unlimited blocking.

"Football is blocking and tackling and it is not right that anything should stand in its way," he said referring to Canadian rules that limit blocking to the area around the line of scrimmage.

The Cards didn't let anything stand in their way Wednesday night as they ground out a 55-26 exhibition victory over the Canadian Big Four Football Union team. Their line continually opened gaping holes and their rock-ribbed blocking continually kept the Canadian team offstride.

Only two of the 12 touchdowns came on passes, both thrown by Argo quarterback Ronnie Knox, on loan from the Chicago Bears. The Cards' eight TDs were divided eight ways.

The competition at the Philadelphia Eagle Hershey, Pa., camp became so hot and heavy Wednesday that three fights and a half dozen near brawls broke out as the Birds went through a 45-minute contact workout.

Proverb Jacobs, 260 - pound tackle, and rookie tackle Al Benedict, from Syracuse, were the first to square off. Linebacker Tom Lauderback got involved twice, first with halfback Billy Barnes, then with rookie guard Darrel Ashbacher of Oregon.

Coach Mike Nixon of Washington is using the competitive urge to help him get a second string quarterback behind Eddie Lebaron. Newcomer Eagle Day of Mississippi and veteran Ralph Guglielmi will oppose each other today in an intrasquad game.

Vince Lombardi of Green Bay is doing much the same thing. He plans to use a veteran offensive team headed by Paul Hornung and Lew Carpenter against a rookie defense; and a rookie offense headed by Alex Hawkins of South Carolina and George Dixon of Bridgeport (Conn) against a veteran defense in a Saturday scrimmage.

Locke Hurls No-Hitter In LL Playoff Series

Keith Locke turned in a no-hitter as Travelers blanked the Chester Legion, 1-0, in the Little League playoff series Wednesday at Myler Park.

It was the first of a three-game series.

Almost equally as tough as Locke was Chester's Dennis Horger who limited Travelers, the American League champs, to only two hits.

Travelers came up with its one run in the first inning on two hits and two costly errors.

The same two teams will meet tonight at 6 at Myler Park in the second game of the series. If a third game is needed, it will be played Thursday.

Browns Open Third Week Of Grid Training

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns opened their third week of training today with the roster down to 51 players, six of whom have yet to report to camp here. The six are halfback Bobby Mitchell, due for release from military service Aug. 20, and five players preparing for the College All-Star game.

Names have been scratched from the roster at an average of one a day during the first two weeks of Browns' drills. Departing Wednesday were a pair of rookies — quarterback Bob Brodhead of Duke, who reported late and couldn't catch up, and Frank Trozzo, a guard from West Virginia.

Field Slashed In Junior Golf

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Strong hitters like husky Bruce Richards, 16-year-old Bellevue, Wash., sharpshooter, forged into second round matches of the USGA National Junior Golf tournament today after the bulky opening field of 128 was slashed in half.

Richards blazed around the hilly Stanford course in 70, one under par—the only first round score below regulation figures. He eliminated a tough competitor in Robert B. Kostelecky, La Jolla, Calif. 3-1.

Richard M. Lotz of Aalameda, Calif. Claude Harmon Jr., of New Rochelle, N.Y., James A. Grant III, Wethersfield, Conn., and Ronald L. Wright, Englewood, Colo., moved up as likely favorites after decisive first round wins. Wright won by the biggest margin, beating Gary E. Allen, Tucson, Ariz., 9-8.

Another lopsided win was turned in by Gary Polumbus, also from Englewood, who advance on a 7-5 victory over Michael Dawes, Greenville, S.C.

The tournament is limited to youngsters between the ages of 12 and 17.

Jockey Hurt After Tumble At Waterford

A spill which hospitalized Jockey Francisco Saumell marred the nine-race card at Waterford Park Wednesday.

Saumell was reported in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital following his fall in the ninth race aboard Armed Bandit.

The spill occurred in the middle of the stretch when Armed Bandit, running second at the time, stumbled and threw Saumell. X-rays were taken and it appears that Saumell suffered a dislocated shoulder.

Another large daily double payoff was returned Wednesday when a 6 and 7 combination of Whirling Ex and Osagian paid $266.80.

Indians Split Pair With Senators; Trail Chicago By Two

Billy Martin Injured When Hit By Pitch

WASHINGTON (AP)—At a crucial point in the American League pennant race, the second - place Cleveland Indians have lost second baseman Billy Martin for the stretch drive.

Martin, who had hit safely in eight straight games, was struck on the left side of the face on a pitch by Washington's Tex Clevenger Wednesday night. He suffered a fractured left jaw and cheekbone and doctors figure he will be sidelined for four to six weeks.

The Indians split their doubleheader with the Senators and remained two games behind Chicago.

Cleveland exploded for six runs in the seventh inning of the opener to win 7-3. The Senators snapped their 18-game losing spell in the nightcap, however, on a 9-0 shutout by Clevenger.

The loss of Martin is especially costly, since Cleveland has a shortage of infielders. Vic Power also was hurt Wednesday night, getting a sprained right thumb and a spike wound on his right forearm when Lenny Green slid into him at third base.

Power's injury is not considered serious, though, and he probably will be back in action tonight when Cleveland plays the final game of the four-game series with the Senators.

Gary Bell (11-9) is slated to pitch for the Tribe against Russ Kemmerer (5-11).

Martin, first batter in the nightcap, was carried off the field on a stretcher. At Georgetown University Hospital for an indefinite period, he underwent immediate plastic surgery and had the broken bones in his face wired.

Martin drove in the tying and winning runs in the opener with a bases-loaded single. It enabled Jim Grant (7-4) to post his 10th straight victory over the Senators over two seasons.

In the second game, the Senators tallied six times in the fifth inning off loser Cal McLish (13-5) and Bobby Locke. The big blow was a three-run homer by Harmon Killebrew, his 34th. Three Indians errors led to three unearned markers.

The Indians got only seven hits off Clevenger (5-2), making his first start after 33 relief appearances.

In the opener Strickland triggered the Indians' big scoring bust with his third homer of the season. Rookie Zorro Versalles and Jim Lemon homered for the Senators.

Tito Francona had two hits in eight trips in the two games and saw his averaged slip six points to .410.

Clevenger Breaks Nats' Long Losing String At 18

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Truman for President! That is the new cry in Washington.

They mean Clevenger, not Harry, as the Truman of their dreams for he is the man who broke the Senators' 18-game losing streak.

Cookie Lavagetto was a desperate man after watching his Senators tie a club mark by dropping their 18th straight in the first game of a doubleheader Wednesday night. The modern major league record of 20 was just around the corner.

Cookie finally settled on Clevenger, a 27-year-old son of Visalia, Calif., who had not started all season. Clevenger had shown enough in 33 relief appearances to convince Lavagetto, who by this time didn't need much convincing after watching his other pitchers.

All that Clevenger did was to throw his first big league shutout, a seven hit 9-0 job at the second-place Cleveland Indians and the streak was over. It was the Senators' first victory since the first game of a July 19 doubleheader.

Harmon Killebrew woke up, too. He hit his first home run since July 27, (No. 34), and pushed his runs batted in total to 85. Both figures are tops in the American League.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant handed Washington its 18th defeat in the opener 7-3 as the Indians scored six runs in the seventh inning. Cal McLish, the man General Manager Frank Lane criticized Casey Stengel for pitching in the All - Star game, lost the second.

There was no change in the pennant race. Chicago also split a twi - nighter in Baltimore, holding tight to its two-game lead. Barry Latman shutout the Orioles with three hits in the 2-0 opener but Baltimore took advantage of Early Wynn's shaky pitching and five White Sox errors to grab the second game 7-1 behind Arnold Portocarrero.

New York finally beat Yankee-killer Don Mossi after bowing five times to the talented left-hander. Little Bobby Shantz fired a five-hit shutout and Mickey Mantle hit his 22nd home run with a man on for 3-0 victory.

Cary Geiger drove in six runs and Frank Malzone knocked in five as Boston clubbed Kansas City 17-6. Geiger hit a three-run homer, a two-run double and batted in anogher with a triple. Malzone hit his 16th and 17th homers, a double and a single. Ike Delock, second of three Boston pitchers, was the winner over rookie Howard Reed who replaced Johnny Kucks in the first.

Furniture City Captures Two Straight To Win Minor Crown

Furniture City has won the championship of the Little Minor League by taking two straight from Coca Cola in the best two of three series.

Furniture City scored a 13-6 victory Wednesday to grab the championship.

The winners collected 11 hits, with Dave Alford leading the way with 4. Alford had four straight singles. His brother Colan Alford helped the cause with a pair of doubles.

Dave Alford also was the pitching star, allowing only four hits and fanning nine Coca Cola batters.

J. Welch belted a home run and a double for the losers.

Curve Ball Helps Giants' Sanford

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jack Sanford's humming fast ball remains his stock in trade, but the big right-hander also has developed an effective curve.

That curve could prove of major value to the San Francisco Giants in their bid for the National League pennant.

Against the Milwaukee Braves Wednesday, the count was three balls and two strikes to Del Crandall when Sanford spun the curve for strike three.

"In past seasons I never have thrown the curve in a three and two situation," Sanford said. "Now I'm getting more confidense in it and the curve breaks a little better."

It also can baffle opposing batters who peg the 29-year-old as strictly a fireball thrower off his past two seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies.

As he beat the Braves, 4-1, scattering eight hits, Sanford mixed in the curve and change-ups.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Willie McCovey, Giants, drove in three runs with two homers as San Francisco regained National League lead by downing Milwaukee 4-1.

Pitching — Truman Clevenger, Senators, broke Washington's 18-game losing streak by shutting out Cleveland 9-0 in his first start after 33 relief appearances.

Akron Pounds Out 19-4 Win Over Locals

The East Liverpool Pony League All-Stars came to the end of the tournament trail when a hard-hitting Akron team exploded for a 19-4 victory Wednesday at Ashland in the area eliminations.

East Liverpool winners of the district tournament, lost its second straight to the strong Akron squad in the best of a three-game series.

Akron accumulated 13 hits, including four home runs.

East Liverpool was out of contention after the third inning when Akron built up a 10-0 lead on four runs in the second inning and six in the third.

Akron kept up the pace by scoring three more in the fourth, two in the sixth and four in the seventh.

East Liverpool scored three runs in the fourth inning on Eddie Pruden's home run with two teammates aboard.

Phil Wilfred, the southpaw who stopped East Liverpool in the first game, hurled the first three innings Wednesday and fanned four batters. He was relieved by Buchs, who finished up the pitching chores.

Pruden started for East Liverpool, with Jim Tridico and Dave Myer following him to the mound. Pruden was charged with the loss after hurling three innings.

Lange walloped two home runs and a single to pace the Akron nine, while Wilfred helped his own cause by driving in five runs with a triple and double.

Pruden had two of East Liverpool's five hits.

Liston Stops Valdes Early

CHICAGO (AP) — Pep Barone, manager of heavyweight Sonny Liston, is in a quandary.

"I've got a contender and can't get anywhere with him," he said. "I don't think that Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson rematch will ever come off. I think the Swede won't defend his title for some time and nobody will put pressure on him to do it.

"Why don't they let my boy fight Patterson? For that matter, why won't Zora Foley (the No. 2 contender) fight my boy? Things are really messed up."

Liston, a 211-pounder, knocked out Nino Valdes, another 211-pounder, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round nationally televised scrap in Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

A left hook to the jaw, a left-right combination and then a steaming right cross sent the big Cuban sprawling. He nearly got up at the count of 10, but not quite. He was a 6-1 underdog.

It was Liston's 18th straight victory, 16 by knockouts, and he now has won 25 out of 26 starts.

Playoff Berths Getting Attention In International

By The Associated Press

Since Buffalo shows no sign of weakening its eight-game hold on first place in the International League, eyes are focusing on the battle for playoff berths among the other seven teams.

Only five games separate second-place Havana and last place Rochester, with the remaining five teams bunched closely in between.

Rochester defeated Havana Wednesday night 8-2. Third-place Richmond won a doubleheader from Toronto, 7-3 and 5-3, to move within two games of the Cubans. Montreal stayed one percentage point ahead of Columbus in fourth place, though it lost 9-7 to the Jets. Both are 2½ games out of second.

Buffalo lost to Miami, 5-4 in the other IL game.

Tom Burgess' two-run homer (No. 21) helped Columbus, and Burgess scored the deciding run on John Jaciuk's triple in the sixth inning. Joe Gibbon (12-7) was the winner.

Football Cards Roll Over Team Of Canadian League

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

It is doubtful whether Toronto Coach Hamp Pool meant to be taken so literally by the Chicago Cardinals when he said he welcomed the chance to play the National Football League club because of the use of unlimited blocking.

"Football is blocking and tackling and it is not right that anything should stand in its way," he said referring to Canadian rules that limit blocking to the area around the line of scrimmage.

The Cards didn't let anything stand in their way Wednesday night as they ground out a 55-26 exhibition victory over the Canadian Big Four Football Union team. Their line continually opened gaping holes and their rock-ribbed blocking continually kept the Canadian team offstride.

Only two of the 12 touchdowns came on passes, both thrown by Argo quarterback Ronnie Knox, on loan from the Chicago Bears. The Cards' eight TDs were divided eight ways.

The competition at the Philadelphia Eagle Hershey, Pa., camp became so hot and heavy Wednesday that three fights and a half dozen near brawls broke out as the Birds went through a 45-minute contact workout.

Proverb Jacobs, 260 - pound tackle, and rookie tackle Al Benedict, from Syracuse, were the first to square off. Linebacker Tom Lauderback got involved twice, first with halfback Billy Barnes, then with rookie guard Darrel Ashbacher of Oregon.

Coach Mike Nixon of Washington is using the competitive urge to help him get a second string quarterback behind Eddie Lebaron. Newcomer Eagle Day of Mississippi and veteran Ralph Guglielmi will oppose each other today in an intrasquad game.

Vince Lombardi of Green Bay is doing much the same thing. He plans to use a veteran offensive team headed by Paul Hornung and Lew Carpenter against a rookie defense; and a rookie offense headed by Alex Hawkins of South Carolina and George Dixon of Bridgeport (Conn) against a veteran defense in a Saturday scrimmage.

Locke Hurls No-Hitter In LL Playoff Series

Keith Locke turned in a no-hitter as Travelers blanked the Chester Legion, 1-0, in the Little League playoff series Wednesday at Myler Park.

It was the first of a three-game series.

Almost equally as tough as Locke was Chester's Dennis Horger who limited Travelers, the American League champs, to only two hits.

Travelers came up with its one run in the first inning on two hits and two costly errors.

The same two teams will meet tonight at 6 at Myler Park in the second game of the series. If a third game is needed, it will be played Thursday.

Browns Open Third Week Of Grid Training

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns opened their third week of training today with the roster down to 51 players, six of whom have yet to report to camp here. The six are halfback Bobby Mitchell, due for release from military service Aug. 20, and five players preparing for the College All-Star game.

Names have been scratched from the roster at an average of one a day during the first two weeks of Browns' drills. Departing Wednesday were a pair of rookies — quarterback Bob Brodhead of Duke, who reported late and couldn't catch up, and Frank Trozzo, a guard from West Virginia.

Field Slashed In Junior Golf

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Strong hitters like husky Bruce Richards, 16-year-old Bellevue, Wash., sharpshooter, forged into second round matches of the USGA National Junior Golf tournament today after the bulky opening field of 128 was slashed in half.

Richards blazed around the hilly Stanford course in 70, one under par—the only first round score below regulation figures. He eliminated a tough competitor in Robert B. Kostelecky, La Jolla, Calif. 3-1.

Richard M. Lotz of Aalameda, Calif. Claude Harmon Jr., of New Rochelle, N.Y., James A. Grant III, Wethersfield, Conn., and Ronald L. Wright, Englewood, Colo., moved up as likely favorites after decisive first round wins. Wright won by the biggest margin, beating Gary E. Allen, Tucson, Ariz., 9-8.

Another lopsided win was turned in by Gary Polumbus, also from Englewood, who advance on a 7-5 victory over Michael Dawes, Greenville, S.C.

The tournament is limited to youngsters between the ages of 12 and 17.

Jockey Hurt After Tumble At Waterford

A spill which hospitalized Jockey Francisco Saumell marred the nine-race card at Waterford Park Wednesday.

Saumell was reported in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital following his fall in the ninth race aboard Armed Bandit.

The spill occurred in the middle of the stretch when Armed Bandit, running second at the time, stumbled and threw Saumell. X-rays were taken and it appears that Saumell suffered a dislocated shoulder.

Another large daily double payoff was returned Wednesday when a 6 and 7 combination of Whirling Ex and Osagian paid $266.80.

Amazing Willie McCovey Knocks Milwaukee Out Of First

Blasts Two Home Runs, Lifts Giants In Front

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

They were kidding Fred Haney, the National League All - Star manager, about Willie McCovey. Somebody asked why McCovey, a rookie who came up from Phoenix last Thursday, wasn't on the squad.

Haney joked right back. "I'm told that this Willie simply wasn't available," he said. "He already was up in Cooperstown getting measured for a plaque."

That was a couple of days ago. Haney hadn't seen McCovey at that time. He probably wishes now that he never did see him for McCovey knocked his Milwaukee Braves right out of the National League lead and has San Francisco on top again today.

McCovey gave the Giants a first-inning lead with a 380-foot homer off Bob Buhl. After Willie Mays' double scored Jim Davenport with the tie-breaking run in the eighth, McCovey tapped Mr. Buhl for another home run, a two - run 400 - footer that nailed down a 4-1 victory. Jack Sanford went all the way with an eight-hitter for his 10th triumph.

Billy Rigney, manager of the Giants, continued to juggle his lineup. He played Orlando Cepeda, his first baseman recently shifted to third base with sad results, to left field. Cepeda looked much better as he made a spectacular catch of Hank Aaron's foul drive in the eighth inning.

The Braves dropped to third as the Los Angeles Dodgers remained within one-half game of the top by downing the Cincinnati Reds 6-3 on the hitting of Duke Snider and the pitching of Johnny Podres.

Doubles by Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson behind a walk gave Cincinnati two runs in the first and they made it 3-0 in the second. Then Snider homered in the second, drove in another with a single in a three-run third and added the final tally in the eighth with his 16th homer. Podres drove in a run in the fourth. Bob Purkey (10-11), first of three Cincinnati pitchers lost.

Ernie Broglio, St. Louis rookie, pitched his third big league shutout, a four-hit job against Pittsburgh 3-0. Singles by Joe Cunningham and Wally Shannon and Hal Smith's infield out gave the Cards a second-inning run, enough to cost Bob Friend his 14th defeat. They added two unearned runs in the eighth off rookie Fred Green.

Philadelphia hopped on Bill Henry, the Chicago Cubs' usually reliable relief man, and scored two in the ninth for a 6-4 victory. It was the Cubs' seventh straight defeat. Gene Conley got ninth inning help from Taylor Phillips to earn his 10th victory.

GIANT CATCHER Hobie Landrith blocked the plate successfully in this second-inning action which saw Milwaukee's Johnny Logan (23) out at home plate on a forceout. With the bags loaded, Brave's Del Crandell hit to third baseman Jim Davenport who relayed to Landrith. The Giants won, 4-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Quail Returned For Shooting, Sunday Fishing Made Legal

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 103rd General Assembly returned quail to the shooting list for Ohio hunters, finally made Sunday fishing legal and regulated the increasingly popular sport of boating.

And, among other things affecting sportsmen, the Legislature enacted laws to:

Authorize issuance of a $3.25-a-year joint fishing license to married couples, a dollar more than for an individual license.

Extend the term of non-resident fishing licenses from 10 to 15 days.

Permit the seining of buffalo fish and the taking of smelt by any experimental device.

Increase the number of non-profit commercial pheasant hunting preserves in any one county from one to three.

Create the Magee Marsh hunting area near Port Clinton under state sponsorship with a $5-a-day special license — in addition to hunting license and duck stamp—to hunt there.

Make the killing of a game protector first-degree murder, the same as killing a policeman.

The 21-day quail hunting season Nov. 16 - Dec. 9, inclusive, will be Ohio's first in 46 years. It follows a 10-year period during which the bobwhite was taken off the songbird list and put on the game-bird list to permit the state to spend money propagating it.

Sportsmen will be permitted to hunt the birds with guns and dogs.

Hunting will be limited, however, to land owned or leased by the state, licensed shooting preserves and other lands controlled by the Division of Wildlife.

The daily bag limit will be six with a possession limit of 12 after the first day of the season. Shooting hours will be 9 a. m. - 5 p. m.

There are two new laws regulating watercraft.

The first, effective upon signature by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, sets up uniform, statewide regulations. For instance, the measure:

Specifies certain types of lights for boats traveling at night.

Bans flashing lights except in an emergency to attract attention.

Sets up traffic rules similar to rules of the road for autos.

Fixes minimum ages for boat operators.

Prohibits watercraft operation by persons under the influence of alcohol, narcotics or those mentally or physically incapacitated.

Sets penalties for killing a person while violating any law applying to the operation of watercraft.

Sets up water skiing regulations and rules for types of life preservers.

The companion measure is the boat-numbering act which sets up a Division of Watercraft in the Department of Natural Resources. It becomes the licensing agency for all watercraft in the state—rowboats to yachts. Fees will range from $1 to $10 with a 25-cent fee added for the person who issues the license.

Another measure which eventually may have a far-reaching effect on the sportsmen of eastern and southeastern Ohio permits the state to buy and reclaim strip-mined and other eroded land. This may mean more fishing lakes and thousands of acres of new hunting land.

Oh, yes! That Sunday fishing bill.

Actually, it won't be legal to fish on the Sabbath until Oct. 1. But between now and then, Sunday fishing won't be any more illegal than it has been for many, many years.

It isn't likely law enforcement officials will be anxious to spoil your fun during the last 60 effective days of the old "blue law."

'Fear Of Violence' Sneaks Into Fight Probe Picture

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The fear of violence has been injected into the district attorney's probe of the unsavory circumstances surrounding the promotion of the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight championship fight last June.

When Bill Rosensohn, promoter of the bout and until last Monday president of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., left Frank Hogan's office Wednesday after answering a subpoena, he was accompanied by a detective he acknowledged was a bodyguard.

He did not say whether he had asked for protection or whether it was volunteered by the authorities. Hogan's office declined to comment.

This hint of sinister influences at work came during a day which saw both Rosensohn and his erstwhile partner in the enterprises, Vincent Vellella, answering subpoenas from the district attorney's office. There also was the announcement by the New York State Athletic Commission that it was starting a full-scale investigation.

Velella's attorney, Raphael Koenig, said his client had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Friday morning. Rosensohn said he tentatively was asked to return to the district attorney's office under subpoena Aug. 28.

Velella, whose falling out with Rosensohn precipitated the investigations, and Rosensohn appeared separately before Asst. Dist. Atty. John Bonomi, who is conducting the probe.

Rosensohn, when asked if "the underworld boys are in the picture," replied he did not know, but said he had signed away his rights in the promotion because he had to. He declined to comment when asked if he had been threatened.

Podres Shuts Door On Reds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The door was unlocked Wednesday night for Cincinnati to move into the National League first division but Los Angeles southpaw Johnny Podres wouldn't let them open it.

As a result of the Dodgers' 6-3 victory the Reds still are in sixth place, a half game out of that coveted fourth spot in the standings.

It was a frustrating night for the Reds, who had won four straight and seven of their last eight, and went into the game knowing a victory would put them in fourth place. Chicago and Pittsburgh already had lost.

And the Reds got away to a 3-0 lead in the first two innings.

From then on, however, Podres never was threatened and an old Redleg nemesis also began plaguing them. That was Duke Snider, who hit two home runs and drove in another run with a single.

The Reds got only one hit off Podres after the second inning.

They got two runs in the opening frame on a walk to Johnny Temple, Vada Pinson's double, an infield out and Frank Robinson's double.

A walk, a sacrifice and Temple's single scored another in the second.

That was the end of Cincinnati hitting except for a double by Pinson in the eighth.

Snider's first homer gave the Dodgers one run in the second and they clipped starter Bob Purkey for three more in the third.

Junior Gilliam walked, went to second on Wally Moon's infield single and scored on Snider's single. Moor and Snider moved up on a throwing error by Frank Thomas, and Norm Larker scored them with a single.

The Dodgers got another tally in the fourth on John Roseboro's single, an infield out and Podres' single. Snider's second homer came in the eighth.

Today is an off day for the Reds who play at San Francisco Friday.

Don Newcombe, bothered lately with an injured groin muscle, may be able to try it again in the Giant series. He did some running during an afternoon workout and expressed belief he'd be able to pitch Sunday.

Newcombe had to be taken out in each of his last two starts because of the injury.

Open Begins At Cleveland

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Golfer Dave Ragan of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be 24 Friday, and what he wants for his birthday is a victory in the $25,000 Cleveland Open, which starts today.

When he won the Eastern Open earlier this year, it was Ragan's first time in the winner's circle in more than three years on tour.

"I won that one on Joan's birthday," Dave said, referring to his blonde wife.

Dave, a native of Daytona Beach, Fla. copped the Southern Intercollegiate crown while at the University of Florida. He turned pro after winning the Florida Open in 1956 with 24-under-par for the 72 holes.

Dave faces plenty of opposition for the $3,500 first-prize in the four-day, 72-hole medal play chase over Seneca Country Club's course.

Nineteen of the years' top 20 money winners are in the field of 142 professionals and 12 amateurs. Only absentee is Ken Venturi, who returned to his California home to await an addition to his family.

Ohioan Killed In Wreck

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Ralph Frary, 53, of Mount Vernon, was killed Wednesday when his car wrecked on Ohio 586, 15 miles north of here. The Highway Patrol said Frary's car swerved left of center sideswiping a truck driven by Charles Dickenson, 32, of Zanesville, who was not injured. Frary was field manager for the Brendel Oil Producing Co. of North Canton.

Parking Is Eased

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Frank Kryzan, reacting to complaints by downtown merchants of a rush hour parking ban started a month ago, says curb parking will be free and unlimited beginning Monday. Motorists will be able to park their cars on both sides of virtually every downtown street, even where meters are not provided, including truck and bus loading zones.

Murphy Leaves; Peewee Players Breathe Easier

OTTAWA, Kan. (AP) — Murphy the Great has hung up his glove for the season. Next year, he'll go on better things.

So the players in Ottawa's Peewee League can breathe easier, and their parents can calm down.

Murphy the Great is Harry E. Murphy Jr., an affable 10-year-old Irishman.

Harry can throw a baseball faster than anybody who ever played in the Peewee League, a pretty fast circuit for boys 8 to 10 years old.

Harry pitched 35 innings this year (Peewee games last only five innings) and struck out 90 batters. In his last start, he faced only 15 Peewees and fanned 14 of them. Harry's team won the pennant with a 7-0 record. Harry's record also was 7-0, including three no-hit games.

There was a lot of pressure on his parents and on the city recreation director, Orlin Cox, to ban Harry from the Peewee League.

Next year, Harry will join an Elks Club team in a league for boys up to 15 years old. He'll be the youngest player in the league.

Charges Hurled At Two Of Ohio's Teamster Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top Ohio Teamsters have been accused of illegal actions by the Senate Rackets Committee.

The committee said Wednesday that N. Louis (Babe) Triscaro, president of Teamsters Local 436 in Cleveland, and William Presser, president of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters, also of Cleveland, are warmly defended by James R. Hoffa, Teamsters president.

A report filed with the Senate Committee criticized Triscaro's handling of union money, and, among other things, Presser's activities as a juke box man in Cleveland. The report, however, did not specify what actions of the two were considered illegal by the committee.

Premier Awaited In Village Where Tall Corn Grows

COON RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — This little town in west central Iowa apparently is taking in stride the news that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may come here to visit farmer Roswell Garst next month.

"I've heard very little comment from the townspeople," said one of the leading citizens, Thomas Rogers, who edits the local weekly newspaper, The Enterprise.

"There's no indication so far that anyone is getting overly excited about it."

In talking to newsmen in Moscow Wednesday, Khurshchev said he had been invited by an American farmer named Garst to stay with him and that he probably would.

Garst lives in a big place on the outskirts of this town of about 1,700. His specialty is growing seed corn. He has visited the Soviet Union, has talked with Khrushchev and has sold the Russians seed corn.

Since 1955 several Soviet farm delegations have visited the Garst showplace.

Rogers said he knows of no local plans that would involve a Khrushchev visit, and Garst said he had nothing special in mind except to show the Soviet leader some Iowa agriculture.

Amazing Willie McCovey Knocks Milwaukee Out Of First

Blasts Two Home Runs, Lifts Giants In Front

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

They were kidding Fred Haney, the National League All - Star manager, about Willie McCovey. Somebody asked why McCovey, a rookie who came up from Phoenix last Thursday, wasn't on the squad.

Haney joked right back. "I'm told that this Willie simply wasn't available," he said. "He already was up in Cooperstown getting measured for a plaque."

That was a couple of days ago. Haney hadn't seen McCovey at that time. He probably wishes now that he never did see him for McCovey knocked his Milwaukee Braves right out of the National League lead and has San Francisco on top again today.

McCovey gave the Giants a first-inning lead with a 380-foot homer off Bob Buhl. After Willie Mays' double scored Jim Davenport with the tie-breaking run in the eighth, McCovey tapped Mr. Buhl for another home run, a two - run 400 - footer that nailed down a 4-1 victory. Jack Sanford went all the way with an eight-hitter for his 10th triumph.

Billy Rigney, manager of the Giants, continued to juggle his lineup. He played Orlando Cepeda, his first baseman recently shifted to third base with sad results, to left field. Cepeda looked much better as he made a spectacular catch of Hank Aaron's foul drive in the eighth inning.

The Braves dropped to third as the Los Angeles Dodgers remained within one-half game of the top by downing the Cincinnati Reds 6-3 on the hitting of Duke Snider and the pitching of Johnny Podres.

Doubles by Vada Pinson and Frank Robinson behind a walk gave Cincinnati two runs in the first and they made it 3-0 in the second. Then Snider homered in the second, drove in another with a single in a three-run third and added the final tally in the eighth with his 16th homer. Podres drove in a run in the fourth. Bob Purkey (10-11), first of three Cincinnati pitchers lost.

Ernie Broglio, St. Louis rookie, pitched his third big league shutout, a four-hit job against Pittsburgh 3-0. Singles by Joe Cunningham and Wally Shannon and Hal Smith's infield out gave the Cards a second-inning run, enough to cost Bob Friend his 14th defeat. They added two unearned runs in the eighth off rookie Fred Green.

Philadelphia hopped on Bill Henry, the Chicago Cubs' usually reliable relief man, and scored two in the ninth for a 6-4 victory. It was the Cubs' seventh straight defeat. Gene Conley got ninth inning help from Taylor Phillips to earn his 10th victory.

GIANT CATCHER Hobie Landrith blocked the plate successfully in this second-inning action which saw Milwaukee's Johnny Logan (23) out at home plate on a forceout. With the bags loaded, Brave's Del Crandell hit to third baseman Jim Davenport who relayed to Landrith. The Giants won, 4-1. (UPI Telephoto)

Quail Returned For Shooting, Sunday Fishing Made Legal

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 103rd General Assembly returned quail to the shooting list for Ohio hunters, finally made Sunday fishing legal and regulated the increasingly popular sport of boating.

And, among other things affecting sportsmen, the Legislature enacted laws to:

Authorize issuance of a $3.25-a-year joint fishing license to married couples, a dollar more than for an individual license.

Extend the term of non-resident fishing licenses from 10 to 15 days.

Permit the seining of buffalo fish and the taking of smelt by any experimental device.

Increase the number of non-profit commercial pheasant hunting preserves in any one county from one to three.

Create the Magee Marsh hunting area near Port Clinton under state sponsorship with a $5-a-day special license — in addition to hunting license and duck stamp—to hunt there.

Make the killing of a game protector first-degree murder, the same as killing a policeman.

The 21-day quail hunting season Nov. 16 - Dec. 9, inclusive, will be Ohio's first in 46 years. It follows a 10-year period during which the bobwhite was taken off the songbird list and put on the game-bird list to permit the state to spend money propagating it.

Sportsmen will be permitted to hunt the birds with guns and dogs.

Hunting will be limited, however, to land owned or leased by the state, licensed shooting preserves and other lands controlled by the Division of Wildlife.

The daily bag limit will be six with a possession limit of 12 after the first day of the season. Shooting hours will be 9 a. m. - 5 p. m.

There are two new laws regulating watercraft.

The first, effective upon signature by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, sets up uniform, statewide regulations. For instance, the measure:

Specifies certain types of lights for boats traveling at night.

Bans flashing lights except in an emergency to attract attention.

Sets up traffic rules similar to rules of the road for autos.

Fixes minimum ages for boat operators.

Prohibits watercraft operation by persons under the influence of alcohol, narcotics or those mentally or physically incapacitated.

Sets penalties for killing a person while violating any law applying to the operation of watercraft.

Sets up water skiing regulations and rules for types of life preservers.

The companion measure is the boat-numbering act which sets up a Division of Watercraft in the Department of Natural Resources. It becomes the licensing agency for all watercraft in the state—rowboats to yachts. Fees will range from $1 to $10 with a 25-cent fee added for the person who issues the license.

Another measure which eventually may have a far-reaching effect on the sportsmen of eastern and southeastern Ohio permits the state to buy and reclaim strip-mined and other eroded land. This may mean more fishing lakes and thousands of acres of new hunting land.

Oh, yes! That Sunday fishing bill.

Actually, it won't be legal to fish on the Sabbath until Oct. 1. But between now and then, Sunday fishing won't be any more illegal than it has been for many, many years.

It isn't likely law enforcement officials will be anxious to spoil your fun during the last 60 effective days of the old "blue law."

'Fear Of Violence' Sneaks Into Fight Probe Picture

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The fear of violence has been injected into the district attorney's probe of the unsavory circumstances surrounding the promotion of the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight championship fight last June.

When Bill Rosensohn, promoter of the bout and until last Monday president of Rosensohn Enterprises, Inc., left Frank Hogan's office Wednesday after answering a subpoena, he was accompanied by a detective he acknowledged was a bodyguard.

He did not say whether he had asked for protection or whether it was volunteered by the authorities. Hogan's office declined to comment.

This hint of sinister influences at work came during a day which saw both Rosensohn and his erstwhile partner in the enterprises, Vincent Vellella, answering subpoenas from the district attorney's office. There also was the announcement by the New York State Athletic Commission that it was starting a full-scale investigation.

Velella's attorney, Raphael Koenig, said his client had been subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury Friday morning. Rosensohn said he tentatively was asked to return to the district attorney's office under subpoena Aug. 28.

Velella, whose falling out with Rosensohn precipitated the investigations, and Rosensohn appeared separately before Asst. Dist. Atty. John Bonomi, who is conducting the probe.

Rosensohn, when asked if "the underworld boys are in the picture," replied he did not know, but said he had signed away his rights in the promotion because he had to. He declined to comment when asked if he had been threatened.

Podres Shuts Door On Reds

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The door was unlocked Wednesday night for Cincinnati to move into the National League first division but Los Angeles southpaw Johnny Podres wouldn't let them open it.

As a result of the Dodgers' 6-3 victory the Reds still are in sixth place, a half game out of that coveted fourth spot in the standings.

It was a frustrating night for the Reds, who had won four straight and seven of their last eight, and went into the game knowing a victory would put them in fourth place. Chicago and Pittsburgh already had lost.

And the Reds got away to a 3-0 lead in the first two innings.

From then on, however, Podres never was threatened and an old Redleg nemesis also began plaguing them. That was Duke Snider, who hit two home runs and drove in another run with a single.

The Reds got only one hit off Podres after the second inning.

They got two runs in the opening frame on a walk to Johnny Temple, Vada Pinson's double, an infield out and Frank Robinson's double.

A walk, a sacrifice and Temple's single scored another in the second.

That was the end of Cincinnati hitting except for a double by Pinson in the eighth.

Snider's first homer gave the Dodgers one run in the second and they clipped starter Bob Purkey for three more in the third.

Junior Gilliam walked, went to second on Wally Moon's infield single and scored on Snider's single. Moor and Snider moved up on a throwing error by Frank Thomas, and Norm Larker scored them with a single.

The Dodgers got another tally in the fourth on John Roseboro's single, an infield out and Podres' single. Snider's second homer came in the eighth.

Today is an off day for the Reds who play at San Francisco Friday.

Don Newcombe, bothered lately with an injured groin muscle, may be able to try it again in the Giant series. He did some running during an afternoon workout and expressed belief he'd be able to pitch Sunday.

Newcombe had to be taken out in each of his last two starts because of the injury.

Open Begins At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Golfer Dave Ragan of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be 24 Friday, and what he wants for his birthday is a victory in the $25,000 Cleveland Open, which starts today.

When he won the Eastern Open earlier this year, it was Ragan's first time in the winner's circle in more than three years on tour.

"I won that one on Joan's birthday," Dave said, referring to his blonde wife.

Dave, a native of Daytona Beach, Fla. copped the Southern Intercollegiate crown while at the University of Florida. He turned pro after winning the Florida Open in 1956 with 24-under-par for the 72 holes.

Dave faces plenty of opposition for the $3,500 first-prize in the four-day, 72-hole medal play chase over Seneca Country Club's course.

Dead Fish Jam River

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hundreds of dead fish floated late Wednesday in a foul-smelling film on the Big Miami River in Butler and Hamilton counties. John Walker, of the State Wildlife Division declared the stench and the death of the fish were due to sewage dumped into the river upstream from here.

Premier Awaited In Village Where Tall Corn Grows

COON RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — This little town in west central Iowa apparently is taking in stride the news that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may come here to visit farmer Roswell Garst next month.

"I've heard very little comment from the townspeople," said one of the leading citizens, Thomas Rogers, who edits the local weekly newspaper, The Enterprise.

"There's no indication so far that anyone is getting overly excited about it."

In talking to newsmen in Moscow Wednesday, Khurshchev said he had been invited by an American farmer named Garst to stay with him and that he probably would.

Garst lives in a big place on the outskirts of this town of about 1,700. His specialty is growing seed corn. He has visited the Soviet Union, has talked with Khrushchev and has sold the Russians seed corn.

Since 1955 several Soviet farm delegations have visited the Garst showplace.

Rogers said he knows of no local plans that would involve a Khrushchev visit, and Garst said he had nothing special in mind except to show the Soviet leader some Iowa agriculture.

Ohioan Killed In Wreck

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Ralph Frary, 53, of Mount Vernon, was killed Wednesday when his car wrecked on Ohio 586, 15 miles north of here. The Highway Patrol said Frary's car swerved left of center sideswiping a truck driven by Charles Dickenson, 32, of Zanesville, who was not injured. Frary was field manager for the Brendel Oil Producing Co. of North Canton.

Parking Is Eased

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Frank Kryzan, reacting to complaints by downtown merchants of a rush hour parking ban started a month ago, says curb parking will be free and unlimited beginning Monday. Motorists will be able to park their cars on both sides of virtually every downtown street, even where meters are not provided, including truck and bus loading zones.

Murphy Leaves; Peewee Players Breathe Easier

OTTAWA, Kan. (AP) — Murphy the Great has hung up his glove for the season. Next year, he'll go on better things.

So the players in Ottawa's Peewee League can breathe easier, and their parents can calm down.

Murphy the Great is Harry E. Murphy Jr., an affable 10-year-old Irishman.

Harry can throw a baseball faster than anybody who ever played in the Peewee League, a pretty fast circuit for boys 8 to 10 years old.

Harry pitched 35 innings this year (Peewee games last only five innings) and struck out 90 batters. In his last start, he faced only 15 Peewees and fanned 14 of them. Harry's team won the pennant with a 7-0 record. Harry's record also was 7-0, including three no-hit games.

There was a lot of pressure on his parents and on the city recreation director, Orlin Cox, to ban Harry from the Peewee League.

Next year, Harry will join an Elks Club team in a league for boys up to 15 years old. He'll be the youngest player in the league.

Charges Hurled At Two Of Ohio's Teamster Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two top Ohio Teamsters have been accused of illegal actions by the Senate Rackets Committee.

The committee said Wednesday that N. Louis (Babe) Triscaro, president of Teamsters Local 436 in Cleveland, and William Presser, president of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters, also of Cleveland, are warmly defended by James R. Hoffa, Teamsters president.

A report filed with the Senate Committee criticized Triscaro's handling of union money, and, among other things, Presser's activities as a juke box man in Cleveland. The report, however, did not specify what actions of the two were considered illegal by the committee.

Other Cities Are Attracted By Toledo's Mall System

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo's experiment in luring retail shoppers downtown with four pedestrian malls is receiving close attention from many other cities in the United States and Canada.

Representatives from four American cities and one Canadian city already have set dates for visits to the malls. Many other communities are contemplating sending someone to view the scene first hand.

The first delegation, from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, was due today. It includes Jack Short, councilman-at-large; Traver Smith, service director; Gale Edgerton, a department store manager; and two newspaper people.

Next Wednesday, a group from the Lincoln-Belmont-Ashland shopping center in Chicago will come to Toledo.

Windsor, Ont., will send representatives Aug. 20. John H. Travers Jr., executive vice president of the Buffalo, N. Y., retail merchants, is expected here the week of Aug. 17.

Other inquiries have come from Zanesville; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Cincinnati; Canton; Cleveland; Peoria, Ill.; Toronto; Annapolis, Md.; and Saginaw, Mich.

The colorful malls—located on what was four blocks of busy Adams St. and Madison Ave. —feature trees, flowers, grass, live penguins, statuary, playground equipment and benches. The city put up $15,000 for the project.

Their purpose is to make downtown shopping so pleasant that a trip to the core of the city's business district is more attractive than a stop at a suburban shopping center.

Since the malls opened Monday, thousands of persons have visited them. Most people say they like the idea; will continue to do business with the downtown merchants.

Some merchants, however, see another necessary step ahead for city planners. There must be cheap parking, they say, before the malls can be a complete and continuing success.

Said Hyman Posner, a delicatessen operator in the mall area: "I'd say make the malls permanent on one condition — cheap parking. I've had people tell me that as well as they like the malls, they won't come to shop there as long as they have to pay almost a dollar to park for a day when they can park at shopping centers for nothing."

Parking has been taken into consideration in long range planning for the downtown area. The mall experiment will end in 40 days, and then city and county officials will appraise its worth.

If it has been successful, they will begin planning for permanent and more elaborate malls with nearby parking areas already envisioned in a master plan for downtown development.

DiSalle Will Veto Help For Community Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Amid arguments pro and con to the plan, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said Wednesday he will veto an act giving state aid to help finance community colleges and two-year technical institutes. He is giving the plan more detailed study.

"There is no question in my mind of the need for technical institutes and community colleges," DiSalle told a group of educators and others, "but there is no provision for orderly planning. I am not opposed to the objective—it's the method. . . ."

He said the principal reason for a veto is that the Legislature had failed to appropriate any money for a two-year institute program.

Dr. Novice G. Fawcett, president of Ohio State University, said that DiSalle's analysis was precisely the conclusion reached by the Inter-University Council.

He and Dr. John Baker, president of Ohio University, assured those at the meeting that there is no opposition on the part of state universities to the plan.

However, Rep. Michael Sweeney (D-Cuyahoga) pleaded: "We are late on this thing already. We need enabling legislation right now. The bill would not cost the state much money in the next two years. But now, Ohio communities must wait another two years to put the question of their participation before their voters."

Anton Boehm of Barberton, one of the backers of the bill, added that the institutes could train engineering aides, thus freeing professional men to do real engineering work.

DiSalle asserted there will be no delay in meeting the pressing need for post-high school training for youths who meet an increasingly complex world.

He virtually promised Cleveland that the state will have ready, when the 1961 Legislature meets, a plan for creation of a community college in Cuyahoga County. Study for need of a technical institute at Barberton was also pledged by DiSalle.

Liverpool East Firemen Push Plans For Carnival Aug. 17-22

Further plans for the annual Liverpool Township East volunteer firemen's carnival Aug. 17-22 were completed at a meeting Wednesday night at the Dixonville fire station. About 26 attended.

About 55 invitations have been sent to area organizations to participate in a parade Aug. 22, and any groups interested who have not received notices, may contact Keith Stevens, chairman, FU 5-2565.

Presentation of a 49-star American Flag will be made Aug. 21 by the color guard of American Legion Post 374. Allen Goodman, post commander, along with Louis Krawiec and James Krieger, attended last night's meeting to plan the ceremony.

It was reported a new automatic timer control for the fire siren system has been installed. Receiving stations may sound the alarm by a button, and the timer will operate the siren alternately for eight seconds on and eight seconds off for a two-minute period.

Brief business will be held next Wednesday night, Paul Cunningham, president, said, while the regular session slated Aug. 19 has been canceled because of the carnival.

Inflation has hit television so hard that they're bartering for talent with "flesh" instead of money. The best of them do it. As a matter of fact, only the best of them do it.

Marie Torre

You have to be so famous to dabble in the TV "flesh" market that a Bing Crosby willingly would appear on your show if you promise to appear on his show later on. In this way, no money is exchanged, just "flesh," and not even Uncle Sam can take a slice of that.

As for viewers, they're getting used to seein' double (Frank Sinatra on "The Dean Martin Show," Dean Martin on "The Frank Sinatra Show," Bing Crosby on "The Bob Hope Show," Bob Hope on "The Bing Crosby Show," etc.).

And next season, with more than 250 spectaculars panting for starkissed performers, it's going to get worse.

THE GAME of swaps will be played with such vigor among luminaries that in order for Milton Berle to deliver two shows to NBC next season, he will have to give four performances in all, two of them on CBS, of all unexpected places.

Says Berle: "I'm all set for the season. I do a Danny Thomas show in the fall, then Danny appears with me Oct. 11. I do a Desi and Lucy show, and they'll appear with me Nov. 1."

Members of show business royalty might not like the swap practice, but, economically, it's the only solution for those who find rating security in the company of stars.

"What it all boils down to," added Berle, "is that money-wise we just can't afford one another. I couldn't 'buy' Danny Thomas for an appearance, and Danny Thomas couldn't 'buy' me. Under the tax setup, that kind of money means nothing. It's just public service."

THIS FALL Bostonians sitting in front of their television sets can take college courses for credit through the Commission on Extension Courses. They'll only have to stir out of their homes for occasional conferences at Harvard, and for the final examination. . . .

Jimmy Durante will be among the welcome returnees next season. His boundless warmth and humor will fill one of NBC's Sunday specials (Dec. 6) in "Give My Regards to Broadway." . . .

Latest batch of Hollywood movies to be dumped on the television market include "The Razor's Edge," with the late Tyrone Power; "Seventh Heaven," with James Stewart, and "Grapes of Wrath," with Henry Fonda.

The largest glandular organ in the human body is the liver, which weighs from 50 to 60 ounces. Its chief functions are the production of bile and the storage and production of glycogen from the digestive secretions of the upper intestines.

2 Warrants Are Issued In Closing Fight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Warrants were issued against two merchants Wednesday in what is looked upon as the opening step in an all-out fight in Cleveland to enforce Sunday closing laws.

Louis Weisberg, president of the Giant Tiger Stores, was accused by Louis C. Schoenthal, 80, who said he bought a wastebasket at a Giant Tiger store last Sunday.

In a warrant issued by assistant police Prosecutor Richard F. Matia, Theodore E. Shaffer, vice president of the Furniture Mart, was charged with selling Erwin Cooper a $3 lamp. According to Matia, Cooper bought the lamp for an organization of retail furniture dealers who have joined other groups to help enforce the law.

Earlier this week a case was instituted in suburban Maple Heights against the Fame Department Store.

Schoenthal was accompanied to the prosecutor's office by an attorney for Sunday, Inc., J. Arthur Begam, former assistant Cleveland law director. Begam said the purpose of Sunday, Inc., is to advise Cuyahoga County communities about the law and aid them in its enforcement.

Begam indicated proceedings will be started against other alleged violators of the law on the basis of evidence submitted by "volunteer" shoppers.

Alma Coppock was admitted with possible back and hip injuries. Jane Coppock, 17, a passenger received abrasions of the right elbow.

Bernard Zlatovich, Ohio Township constable, reported that the Coppock car was traveling west on Route 68 and attempted to make a left turn into Glasgow Borough when it was struck by a car driven by Catherine Z. Williams, 1161 Erie St., who was unhurt.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Reducing Pals Seen Better Than Pills

Spirited competition can add a fillip of fun to a slimming routine. Three young mothers decided to join forces to fight the battle of the bulge. Here is the report:

Ida Jean Kain

"Perhaps some of your weight-watching readers would be interested in our pound-pushing plan. This spring, three young mothers of six pre-school children got together three times a week to gether three times a week to share 300 calorie lunches.

To some overweights 300 calories may seem austere, but I for one never ate so well. I served: tomato juice, 4 ounces; 5 shrimp; 1 tbsp. sauce; 4 ounces fillet of flounder, broiled with lemon juice; slice of tomato; fresh fruit compote made with strawberries, bananas and peaches; and iced coffee with sucaryl. Total, 300 calories.

"THIS JUNE we have accelerated our program. The group has increased to five women with eight pre-schoolers. We meet daily for lunch from 12:30 to 1:30. Children are fed at home prior to our luncheons.

"Now we've started an exercise group. For exercise we meet from 11:30 until noon. Whereas it was always too much of a bother for one woman to exercise alone for five minutes, with one or more neighbors exercise is fun and gives a lift.

"This coming Thursday will be two weeks for the exercise plan. After only four days, we all feel a lot trimmer. Buttons button and zippers zip that didn't before. We limber up with a stretch and a bend, do two chest improvers, sit-ups and contraction exercises for the abdomen, plus leg swings and a rock-a-bye roll to slim the hips.

"We started all exercises to four counts and have increased to eight. Total time, about ten minutes. Equipment: shorts and a large bath towel as individual exercise mats.

"These meetings do wonders for the morale. I have actually become more efficient, now that I've got something to look forward to. The house is neat and tidy before lunch.

"It is dusted and swept; clothes are washed, dried, folded; and toys are picked up and put into a portable carton for use by the visiting children. Then the afternoon is free for ironing, vacuuming, or shopping.

"Dear Miss Kain, please don't keel over right now after all these do-it-yourself ideas . . . but it is my opinion that for those who have to lose 20 or more pounds, medical help should be sought, if only for a starter.

"I KNOW THAT before, every time I 'dieted', I went into reverse . . . that is up, not down. This time I've gone from a tight 18 (157 pounds) to a comfortable 16 (141 pounds). Six more pounds off and I'll treat myself to a new bathing suit . . . 135 pounds for 5 feet 6."

What a gal! Exercise of the imagination is most rewarding. This dietitician heartily endorses every suggestion.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leafled entitled "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Lausche's Deliberate Voting Draws Praise Of Eisenhower

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fellow Senate Democrats of Ohio's Frank J. Lausche sometimes express exasperation with the troubles he has in making up his mind.

He continually asks questions about the legislation at hand. He keeps them guessing about the way he will vote.

But there is one individual who finds in this nothing but cause for praise. The individual is President Eisenhower.

As Eisenhower puts it, privately of course, Lausche searches his soul before he votes.

It seems safe to conclude that Eisenhower is a little more conservative than some old guardsmen here thought.

The President has been known, again privately, to laud and agree most of the time with another conservative Ohioan: Republican John W. Bricker, the former senator.

In some respects, Eisenhower has reason to be grateful to Lausche. Lausche often votes with the GOP.

He did, for example, stick with Lewis L. Strauss, the man the Senate turned down as President Eisenhower's secretary of commerce. He also stayed with Ogden R. Reid as ambassador to Israel when some other Democrats protested.

Again, when the aid to airports bill came up, Lausche reportedly voted with GOP senators to hold down the money.

However, Lausche has demonstrated that his vote is not always predictable.

He favored, for instance, Clare Boothe Luce as ambassador to Brazil. But then she made the crack about Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) getting kicked in the head by a horse.

After that, Lausche said he regretted voting for her.

This sort of thing, obviously, is hardly enough to qualify Lausche as a party man. President Eisenhower seems pretty much alone in mentioning his name in the same breath as the White House.

On the other hand, there is this to be considered: Lausche says not to count him out as a candidate at next year's convention.

Federal Charge Due Against Florida Man

LISBON — Eugene Hunter, 24, of Jacksonville, Fla., accused by village authorities of theft of a car, has been turned over to federal authorities to face a charge of taking a stolen auto over state lines.

Hunter was bound over to the September Grand Jury in the theft of a car owned by Leland Biggins of Thomas Rd., but village authorities have waived their prosecution rights.

Hunter was conveyed to Cleveland by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

New Ohio Law Explained On School Levies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—School levies running indefinitely can be placed on election ballots next November but boards of education have a limited time for such action next month.

A new law, effective Sept. 10, makes unnecessary periodic renewal of voter-approved school levies inside the 10-mill limitation and allows such levies outside the 10-mill limit to run up to 10 years.

Officials said the new act sets Sept. 15 as the deadline in any year for school boards to approve tax levies. Action by a two-thirds vote of school boards before that date requires election boards to place the issue before voters for final decision.

Officials explained further that the portion of a voter-approved levy inside the 10-mill limit would run indefinitely under the new law but that any portion outside could run no longer than 10 years. The tax levy resolution would specify the length of time the outside portion would run, they added.

2 Warrants Are Issued In Closing Fight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Warrants were issued against two merchants Wednesday in what is looked upon as the opening step in an all-out fight in Cleveland to enforce Sunday closing laws.

Louis Weisberg, president of the Giant Tiger Stores, was accused by Louis C. Schoenthal, 80, who said he bought a wastebasket at a Giant Tiger store last Sunday.

In a warrant issued by assistant police Prosecutor Richard F. Matia, Theodore E. Shaffer, vice president of the Furniture Mart, was charged with selling Erwin Cooper a $3 lamp. According to Matia, Cooper bought the lamp for an organization of retail furniture dealers who have joined other groups to help enforce the law.

Earlier this week a case was instituted in suburban Maple Heights against the Fame Department Store.

Schoenthal was accompanied to the prosecutor's office by an attorney for Sunday, Inc., J. Arthur Begam, former assistant Cleveland law director. Begam said the purpose of Sunday, Inc., is to advise Cuyahoga County communities about the law and aid them in its enforcement.

Begam indicated proceedings will be started against other alleged violators of the law on the basis of evidence submitted by "volunteer" shoppers.

A Columbiana R. D. 2 woman is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital where her niece was treated Wednesday following a two-car accident about 9 p. m. at an intersection at the east end of the Beaver Creek Bridge on Route 68 which involved an East Liverpool woman.

Alma Coppock was admitted with possible back and hip injuries. Jane Coppock, 17, a passenger received abrasions of the right elbow.

Bernard Zlatovich, Ohio Township constable, reported that the Coppock car was traveling west on Route 68 and attempted to make a left turn into Glasgow Borough when it was struck by a car driven by Catherine Z. Williams, 1161 Erie St., who was unhurt.

Zlatovich said the Coppock auto was demolished and the Williams auto received about $500 damage.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Reducing Pals Seen Better Than Pills

Spirited competition can add a fillip of fun to a slimming routine. Three young mothers decided to join forces to fight the battle of the bulge. Here is the report:

Ida Jean Kain

"Perhaps some of your weight-watching readers would be interested in our pound-pushing plan. This spring, three young mothers of six pre-school children got together three times a week to gether three times a week to share 300 calorie lunches.

To some overweights 300 calories may seem austere, but I for one never ate so well. I served: tomato juice, 4 ounces; 5 shrimp; 1 tbsp. sauce; 4 ounces fillet of flounder, broiled with lemon juice; slice of tomato; fresh fruit compote made with strawberries, bananas and peaches; and iced coffee with sucaryl. Total, 300 calories.

"THIS JUNE we have accelerated our program. The group has increased to five women with eight pre-schoolers. We meet daily for lunch from 12:30 to 1:30. Children are fed at home prior to our luncheons.

"Now we've started an exercise group. For exercise we meet from 11:30 until noon. Whereas it was always too much of a bother for one woman to exercise alone for five minutes, with one or more neighbors exercise is fun and gives a lift.

"This coming Thursday will be two weeks for the exercise plan. After only four days, we all feel a lot trimmer. Buttons button and zippers zip that didn't before. We limber up with a stretch and a bend, do two chest improvers, sit-ups and contraction exercises for the abdomen, plus leg swings and a rock-a-bye roll to slim the hips.

"We started all exercises to four counts and have increased to eight. Total time, about ten minutes. Equipment: shorts and a large bath towel as individual exercise mats.

"These meetings do wonders for the morale. I have actually become more efficient, now that I've got something to look forward to. The house is neat and tidy before lunch.

"It is dusted and swept; clothes are washed, dried, folded; and toys are picked up and put into a portable carton for use by the visiting children. Then the afternoon is free for ironing, vacuuming, or shopping.

"Dear Miss Kain, please don't keel over right now after all these do-it-yourself ideas...but it is my opinion that for those who have to lose 20 or more pounds, medical help should be sought, if only for a starter.

"I KNOW THAT before, every time I 'dieted', I went into reverse...that is up, not down. This time I've gone from a tight 18 (157 pounds) to a comfortable 16 (141 pounds). Six more pounds off and I'll treat myself to a new bathing suit...135 pounds for 5 feet 6."

What a gal! Exercise of the imagination is most rewarding. This dietitician heartily endorses every suggestion.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leafled entitled "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Lausche's Deliberate Voting Draws Praise Of Eisenhower

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fellow Senate Democrats of Ohio's Frank J. Lausche sometimes express exasperation with the troubles he has in making up his mind.

He continually asks questions about the legislation at hand. He keeps them guessing about the way he will vote.

But there is one individual who finds in this nothing but cause for praise. The individual is President Eisenhower.

As Eisenhower puts it, privately of course, Lausche searches his soul before he votes.

Indeed, the President goes further: He considers Lausche one of several conservative Democrats qualified to run for president.

It seems safe to conclude that Eisenhower is a little more conservative than some old guardsmen here thought.

The President has been known, again privately, to laud and agree most of the time with another conservative Ohioan: Republican John W. Bricker, the former senator.

In some respects, Eisenhower has reason to be grateful to Lausche. Lausche often votes with the GOP.

He did, for example, stick with Lewis L. Strauss, the man the Senate turned down as President Eisenhower's secretary of commerce. He also stayed with Ogden R. Reid as ambassador to Israel when some other Democrats protested.

Again, when the aid to airports bill came up, Lausche reportedly voted with GOP senators to hold down the money.

However, Lausche has demonstrated that his vote is not always predictable.

He favored, for instance, Clare Boothe Luce as ambassador to Brazil. But then she made the crack about Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) getting kicked in the head by a horse.

After that, Lausche said he regretted voting for her.

This sort of thing, obviously, is hardly enough to qualify Lausche as a party man. President Eisenhower seems pretty much alone in mentioning his name in the same breath as the White House.

On the other hand, there is this to be considered: Lausche says not to count him out as a candidate at next year's convention.

Federal Charge Due Against Florida Man

LISBON — Eugene Hunter, 24, of Jacksonville, Fla., accused by village authorities of theft of a car, has been turned over to federal authorities to face a charge of taking a stolen auto over state lines.

Hunter was bound over to the September Grand Jury in the theft of a car owned by Leland Biggins of Thomas Rd., but village authorities have waived their prosecution rights.

Hunter, police said, admitted driving the car to New Castle, and Weirton before abandoning it at the pony barns at the County Fairgrounds. He was taken into custody in Stark County Sunday, wearing shoes Biggins had left in the car.

Hunter was conveyed to Cleveland by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents.

New Ohio Law Explained On School Levies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—School levies running indefinitely can be placed on election ballots next November but boards of education have a limited time for such action next month.

A new law, effective Sept. 10, makes unnecessary periodic renewal of voter-approved school levies inside the 10-mill limitation and allows such levies outside the 10-mill limit to run up to 10 years.

Officials said the new act sets Sept. 15 as the deadline in any year for school boards to approve tax levies. Action by a two-thirds vote of school boards before that date requires election boards to place the issue before voters for final decision.

Officials explained further that the portion of a voter-approved levy inside the 10-mill limit would run indefinitely under the new law but that any portion outside could run no longer than 10 years. The tax levy resolution would specify the length of time the outside portion would run, they added.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 13 years old and my little brother is 7. Our father travels and is hardly ever at home. Our mother is sick with cancer and I overheard some relatives say she probably won't live more than two months.

The woman who takes care of my brother and me is very mean. Yesterday I got a letter from a boy who is a junior counselor at a Boy Scout camp. This woman opened the letter before I got it.

I didn't think she had any right to do this and I told her so. She called me a sassy brat and hit me on the back with a frying pan. I almost passed out from the pain. Today I can hardly walk.

Mom has a very nice sister but she's so busy going to the hospital every day I hate to bother her with my troubles. I'm afraid after Mom passes on this woman will be in charge of us forever. What shall I do?—NEED A FRIEND.

Dear Need a Friend: Telephone or visit your aunt immediately and tell her of the frying pan incident. The woman should not be in charge of children. I'm certain if your aunt knew the facts she would make different arrangements for you and your brother at once.

Between Drinks

Dear Ann: I'm 29, single and have been seeing a lot of a man 38. He is divorced. I never was a popular girl and, to be perfectly honest, this is the first man who has suggested marriage.

Jonathon is good-looking, courteous and considerate. The trouble is he gets quite drunk occasionally (about twice a week) and he's like a different person.

When I'm with him (and he's sober) everything is grand and I'm blissfully happy. But when we're apart and I think about his unattractive side I become filled with doubts.

My girl friend tells me there's no such thing as a perfect man—that I'm childish and shortsighted. She says I'll regret being so fussy one day.

Advise me, please — and remember, there's no one else in sight, and I'm crowding 30. — SORELY PERPLEXED.

Dear Perplexed: A man who gets "quite drunk" twice a week is not my idea of a red-hot candidate for a lifetime partner.

You're "happy" when you're with him because he is a man and, to use your words, "the only one in sight." But when reality sets in, you see him as he is — complete with severely neurotic tendencies and glaring personality defects.

Tell Jonathon you won't marry a man with an unresolved drinking problem, but you're willing to give him a chance to dry out. If he proves he can stay off the sauce (with or without outside help) for six months, then consider marriage. But not until.

Lonesome Widow

Dear Ann: I'm a widow, 51. I live alone and don't consider myself too old for male companionship. I'd like to know how a decent woman can let a man know she's interested without appearing forward or cheap.

A gentleman I've know for years lost his wife two weeks ago. I know it's too early for him to be thinking about other women but how can I let him know I'm around? And how soon do you think I should start?—LONESOME.

Dear Lonesome: If you've known the man for years, he knows you, too — so take it easy. After three months or so invite him to your home for dinner, along with others. One such invitation is enough to learn whether or not he's interested.

Confidentially

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—John H. Ferguson, 41, of Dayton, was given two concurrent life sentences here after being found guilty on two charges of first-degree murder. A three-judge panel gave the verdict Wednesday.

Two Fugitives Seized By FBI

CHICAGO (AP)—The FBI here is holding two men who admitted to police that they sawed their way out of jail in Newport, Ky., last week.

Held are Demphus Lewis, 37, of Camden, Ohio, who was under a 20-year sentence for robbery last Jan. 30 of a bank at Glencoe, Ky., and Elbert Wellman, 30, of Logan, W. Va., who was serving a four-year sentence for auto theft.

The pair were among seven men who escaped from the Kentucky jail last Tuesday and then eluded a maze of police roadblocks.

Police who seized the pair said they stopped an auto containing Wellman and Lewis when they saw it weaving down a street. Police said the men offered no resistance and admitted they were fugitives. The FBI took custody of the pair to charge them with interstate transportation of a stolen auto.

The car stopped by police was stolen last Tuesday from a service station in Norwood, Ohio, the FBI said. Norwood is a suburb of Cincinnati, across the Ohio River from Newport. The service station was also burglarized, the FBI said.

With the capture of Wellman and Lewis, only one of the seven Newport escapees remains free.

When police stopped Wellman and Lewis, two other men were in the car. But they had nothing to do with the escape, the FBI said.

The News-Journal announced it has acquired the late C. F. Ridenour's interests, in a stock transaction, from Mrs. Mabel L. Ridenour.

The purchase ended a business association that began in 1919 when the News-Journal president, J. A. Chew of Xenia, and Ridenour, merged three Piqua newspapers. The firm operated The Piqua Call jointly until Wednesday.

Control Suggested On New Fly Biting Dairy And Beef Herds

LISBON — Information received by Floyd Lower, Columbiana County extension agent, from R. P. Holdsworth Jr., extension entomologist at Ohio State University, contains the timely helps on insect control for county residents.

Face flies — The big house fly that has been clustering on the faces of dairy and beef cattle is a new kind of fly in Ohio. Although it looks like the house fly, it has different habits and is a cousin introduced from Europe, reported first in North America at Nova Scotia in 1952. This is the second year it has been numerous in Ohio.

No guaranteed control method is known, but there are recent reports of success and failure. One farmer reported control on beef cattle with a chain oiler using 5 per cent DDT in a mixture of half fuel oil and half new motor oil.

Both calves and cows rubbed their heads against the chain and got considerable relief. The success of oilers will depend on cattle being able to rub a generous quantity of either insecticide, or repellent, off on their heads.

The insecticide supply in oilers will need to be renewed every two or three days if they are going to be effective. The use of stock sprays have been reported on dairy cattle with varying results, as giving only a few minutes relief on up to about three hours. Screw worm remedy containing 3 per cent lindane and 35 per cent pine oil was used on the university herd at the rate of half an ounce per animal. It was painted on the forehead, between and under the eyes, and it kept flies completely out of the eyes for two days and most flies out on the third day. It will be necessary to repeat treaatment every three days.

Leafhoppers on alfalfa — Much of the third-growth alfalfa will be hard hit by the potato leafhopper. In contrast to last year, leafhopper populations are relatively high. When the third growth is about 6 inches high spray with 1½ quarts of 25 per cent Methozychlor emulsion concentrate or 1¾ pints of 57 per cent Malathion emulsion concentrate.

Fleas — from now until fall, fleas are likely to be a nuisance in the home. This can happen when families go away on vacation and take the pet along. Fleas will continue to develop in the pet's bedding and mature while the house is empty.

When a person returns to his home, he will find a housefull of hungry flees which may attack humans, particularly children. To rid the house of fleas it is necessary to treat the cat or dog with a dust containing one of these:

Pyrethrum, Rotenone, Methozychlor or Malathion; or to spray the pet with Malathion. Spray the animal's quarters and bedding with 2 per cent Malathion; or 5 percent DDT. Adult fleas in the home can be destroyed with a good grade aerosol spray containing Pyrethrum.

Hornets and wasps — These pests frequently make their nests on or near houses and can be a hazard to children, who may provoke them without realizing the consequences. If a nest is accessible, toss in a tablespoonful of DDT, or Lindane wettable powder, or drench the inside and outside of the nest with insecticide spray (DDT, Lindane, or Malathion). Do this in the evening when the wasps or hornets are quiet.

Bob Turley of the Yankees says he takes a deep breath between most pitches because it relaxes him.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 13 years old and my little brother is 7. Our father travels and is hardly ever at home. Our mother is sick with cancer and I overheard some relatives say she probably won't live more than two months.

The woman who takes care of my brother and me is very mean. Yesterday I got a letter from a boy who is a junior counselor at a Boy Scout camp. This woman opened the letter before I got it.

I didn't think she had any right to do this and I told her so. She called me a sassy brat and hit me on the back with a frying pan. I almost passed out from the pain. Today I can hardly walk.

Mom has a very nice sister but she's so busy going to the hospital every day I hate to bother her with my troubles. I'm afraid after Mom passes on this woman will be in charge of us forever. What shall I do?—NEED A FRIEND.

Dear Need a Friend: Telephone or visit your aunt immediately and tell her of the frying pan incident. The woman should not be in charge of children. I'm certain if your aunt knew the facts she would make different arrangements for you and your brother at once.

Between Drinks

Dear Ann: I'm 29, single and have been seeing a lot of a man 38. He is divorced. I never was a popular girl and, to be perfectly honest, this is the first man who has suggested marriage.

Jonathon is good-looking, courteous and considerate. The trouble is he gets quite drunk occasionally (about twice a week) and he's like a different person.

When I'm with him (and he's sober) everything is grand and I'm blissfully happy. But when we're apart and I think about his unattractive side I become filled with doubts.

My girl friend tells me there's no such thing as a perfect man—that I'm childish and shortsighted. She says I'll regret being so fussy one day.

Advise me, please — and remember, there's no one else in sight, and I'm crowding 30. — SORELY PERPLEXED.

Dear Perplexed: A man who gets "quite drunk" twice a week is not my idea of a red-hot candidate for a lifetime partner.

You're "happy" when you're with him because he is a man and, to use your words, "the only one in sight." But when reality sets in, you see him as he is — complete with severely neurotic tendencies and glaring personality defects.

Tell Jonathon you won't marry a man with an unresolved drinking problem, but you're willing to give him a chance to dry out. If he proves he can stay off the sauce (with or without outside help) for six months, then consider marriage. But not until.

Lonesome Widow

Dear Ann: I'm a widow, 51. I live alone and don't consider myself too old for male companionship. I'd like to know how a decent woman can let a man know she's interested without appearing forward or cheap.

A gentleman I've know for years lost his wife two weeks ago. I know it's too early for him to be thinking about other women but how can I let him know I'm around? And how soon do you think I should start?—LONESOME.

Dear Lonesome: If you've known the man for years, he knows you, too — so take it easy. After three months or so invite him to your home for dinner, along with others. One such invitation is enough to learn whether or not he's interested.

Confidentially

TO AGONY: See a skin specialist. Your rashes and bumps could be an expression of the anger and guilt which came through loud and clear in your letter.

Russian Blast 'Softened' By Brucker Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker softened in delivery Wednesday night a prepared speech in which he had hit out in strong terms at the Soviet Union and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Without assigning a reason, Brucker's office said in advance that while the secretary would stand by the prepared remarks, he would make some changes as he went along.

The speech had been prepared perhaps as long as a week ago. That was in advance of the announcement of the upcoming U.S. visit by Khrushchev and the related effort to build a climate for a polite reception.

In the original version of the address to the Assn. of the U. S. Army, Brucker struck at Khrushchev for "blatant Soviet threats of nuclear devastation" and for recent "tough talk" to American visitors to Moscow.

That was cut out in delivery along with passages warning that increasing Soviet missile power promises "increasing boldness" and a continuation of a Soviet aim to reduce all nations to "a state of vassalage."

In place of such comments Brucker spoke of the friendly reception the Russian people gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon. He said that "promises a better era of understanding."

McAllister Testifies Again In Dairy Case

Temple McAllister, president of the McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., of Warren, returned to the witness stand this morning at Lisbon as a hearing on the dairy's suit against East Liverpool resumed in Common Pleas Court.

The dairy is seeking a ruling on whether the city Health Department can refuse a sales permit for dairy products if all standards are met.

The board refused McAllister a permit in 1957 because its Grade A products apparently did not meet local standards. The hearing, which began July 27, was suspended July 29 until today.

Heavy Rains Flood Part Of City In Iowa

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP)—Torrential rains inundated much of Fort Madison today as the climax of a severe storm which swept southern Iowa during the night.

The 9.42 inches of rain, which fell in just six hours, sent water of three creeks racing over this city of 15,000 in eastern Iowa. Water - choked storm sewers backed up into basements of houses. About two dozen families were forced from their homes.

The storm poured torrents of water on a wide area of southern Iowa, taking a heavy toll of crops and bridges.

The heaviest rainfall—11 inches—came at Lineville, just north of the Iowa - Missouri border 125 miles west of here.

No lives were reported lost but one woman, Mrs. Iva Humburd, 63, was carried by flood waters from the porch of her home here and swept two blocks down a creek.

She was sitting in a chair when the water broke around her. Several Santa Fe Railroad workers heard her cries and rescued her.

Russian Blast 'Softened' By Brucker Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker softened in delivery Wednesday night a prepared speech in which he had hit out in strong terms at the Soviet Union and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Without assigning a reason, Brucker's office said in advance that while the secretary would stand by the prepared remarks, he would make some changes as he went along.

The speech had been prepared perhaps as long as a week ago. That was in advance of the announcement of the upcoming U.S. visit by Khrushchev and the related effort to build a climate for a polite reception.

In the original version of the address to the Assn. of the U. S. Army, Brucker struck at Khrushchev for "blatant Soviet threats of nuclear devastation" and for recent "tough talk" to American visitors to Moscow.

That was cut out in delivery along with passages warning that increasing Soviet missile power promises "increasing boldness" and a continuation of a Soviet aim to reduce all nations to "a state of vassalage."

In place of such comments Brucker spoke of the friendly reception the Russian people gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon. He said that "promises a better era of understanding."

The 171 nominated on party tickets were named at May primaries in East Liverpool, Wellsville, East Palestine, Salem, Salineville, Columbiana, Lisbon and Leetonia.

The total includes three seeking the East Liverpool Municipal Court judgeship on the nonpartisan judicial ticket at the general election, O'Hanlon said.

Judge George L. Brokaw and Atty. William S. Foulks filed as Independents while Atty. Samuel Chertoff was unopposed for the Democratic nomination. Atty. A. J. Coleman had filed for the Republican nomination but died suddenly shortly before the primary.

McAllister Testifies Again In Dairy Case

Temple McAllister, president of the McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., of Warren, returned to the witness stand this morning at Lisbon as a hearing on the dairy's suit against East Liverpool resumed in Common Pleas Court.

The dairy is seeking a ruling on whether the city Health Department can refuse a sales permit for dairy products if all standards are met.

The board refused McAllister a permit in 1957 because its Grade A products apparently did not meet local standards. The hearing, which began July 27, was suspended July 29 until today.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — For Miss Kathleen Krast, 20, an attractive coed, 13 is an unlucky number.

Miss Krast explained to the judge that the youngsters are members of a school playground baseball team and she's their coach.

The judge made her promise she wouldn't do it again and suspended sentence.

Heavy Rains Flood Part Of City In Iowa

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP)—Torrential rains inundated much of Fort Madison today as the climax of a severe storm which swept southern Iowa during the night.

The 9.42 inches of rain, which fell in just six hours, sent water of three creeks racing over this city of 15,000 in eastern Iowa. Water - choked storm sewers backed up into basements of houses. About two dozen families were forced from their homes.

The storm poured torrents of water on a wide area of southern Iowa, taking a heavy toll of crops and bridges.

The heaviest rainfall—11 inches—came at Lineville, just north of the Iowa - Missouri border 125 miles west of here.

No lives were reported lost but one woman, Mrs. Iva Humburd, 63, was carried by flood waters from the porch of her home here and swept two blocks down a creek.

She was sitting in a chair when the water broke around her. Several Santa Fe Railroad workers heard her cries and rescued her.

Nixon's Camp Still Confident

By JACK BELL

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Richard M. Nixon's backers remained confident today that a majority of the nation's Republican governors support the vice president for their party's 1960 presidential nomination.

The GOP state executives generally were reluctant to express public preferences during the 51st Annual Governors' Conference, which wound up its business Wednesday. But the impact of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on his party colleagues was obviously less favorable than Nixon's friends had feared it would be.

Rockefeller edged somewhat closer to contesting for the 1960 GOP nomination in public and private utterances here. At times he had the appearance of a man who is being convinced that he ought to make a try for it. At others he was as hesitant as he has seemed to be for months.

The word now is that Rockefeller will decide about Nov. 1 whether he ought to take on Nixon. And he will do that only if he is convinced that the vice president seems likely to be defeated by a Democrat and that he, Rockefeller, has a better chance to keep the White House in Republican hands.

Rockefeller impressed his fellow chief executives as a forceful, alert man, willing to take on any comers who challenge his political philosophy.

He did this with Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, another Republican, in a sharp verbal exchange over federal intrusion into gubernatorial authority. There was no umpire available to judge who won the argument. But it seemed safe to say that if Rockefeller should become a candidate for the presidential nomination, his brush with Stratton did not improve his chances of getting the support of the powerful Illinois delegation.

Some Republican governors seemed to feel, a bit resentfully, that Rockefeller was preoccupied with weighty issues and had little time to fraternize with them. His admitted charm, however, was reflected in favorable comment from others.

The conference produced little enlightenment on the position of Democratic presidential hopefuls.

In their closing session Wednesday the governors adopted a resolution inviting to the United States the heads of the five Soviet republics that a delegation from their group had visited on a recent tour of the Soviet Union.

The governors also approved a resolution calling on President Eisenhower and the Democratic-controlled Congress to compromise their differences over financing the interstate highway program.

The state executives decided to send a committee to visit Latin American countries before their next year's conference. They also called on industry and labor to settle the steel strike, urged stepped-up civil defense activities, additional atmospheric research, maintenance of the National Guard strength at 400,000 men, and state support of the Inter-American Development Bank.

The conference named Gov. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware its new chairman and agreed to meet next year in Glacier National Park, in Montana.

3 County Students Take Science Training

Three from Columbiana County are among 12 area high school students who will complete a nine-week summer science training program in chemistry at Geneva College Friday.

David Mattern, 1416 Etruria St., Art Herriott of Alice St., East Palestine, and Larry Reed of Columbiana are in the group which is slated to visit the atomic power plant at Shippingport tomorrow and later picnic at Raccoon Creek State Park.

The program, sponsored by the National Science Foundation to encourage scientific interests of high ability students, began June 8. The 12 pre-college students were selected by tests and interviews from schools in a 30-mile radius of the Beaver Falls college.

3 Countians To Attend Soil Bank Discussion

LISBON — Everett Fishel of East Rochester, Earl Lora of Salem and Mrs. Harry Bowman of Lisbon will attend the District 11 soil bank training meeting at Northfield Wednesday.

They will be instructed in procedure of signing farmers for the 1960 conservation reserve under the soil bank program.

Farmers interested in participating in the 1960 program should contact the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office Aug. 24-Sept. 10, according to Lora, manager of the Lisbon office.

Youth Slips On Moss, Falls 125 Feet To Death

ZION NATIONAL PARK, Utah (AP)—Young Kelly Hilton slipped on mossy rocks Wednesday and fell 125 feet to his death in Zion National Park in southwestern Utah.

The 17-year-old youth was on a hiking expedition with three companions to the Natural Bridge, which is about 1,000 feet above the floor of the huge canyon park.

Deadline Set Sept. 30 In Hancock Tax Refund

Hancock County farm operators must file requests by the deadline Sept. 30 to be eligible to receive refund of federal gasoline tax.

Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, said Form 2240 should be submitted, showing the amount of gasoline used off highways in the operation of the farm.

The only information needed for a return of tax is the number of gallons of gasoline used on the farm and the farmer's name and address.

The refund amounts to 3 cents a gallon, Johnson said, for the period between July 1, 1958, and June 30, 1959.

Necessary forms and instructions may be obtained from Johnson's office in New Cumberland or from the Internal Revenue Service.

Anthony Abbatiello, leading driver at the Freehold, N. J., harness track with 26 winners in 1958, has 19 horses under his care.

By GARRY MEYERS

Early Learning Of No Proves Good Guide

Let me summarize some reasons I have given in this column over the years for teaching the child from his early years to respect the word "No."

By Garry Meyers

1.—To keep him whole and alive.

Many a child loses his life because he has not learned to respect certain definite limitations. If he has not acquired basic inhibitions early, he won't be so likely to hold himself in check against dangers later in his life.

FOR EXAMPLE, if the doctor's orders are to be carried out, the child, during certain illnesses, must remain in bed for certain periods. If he refuses to do so he could lose his life or become a life-time invalid, such as a heart cripple.

2.—To enable the child to enjoy abundant love.

The child who ignores "No" or "Don't" vexes his parents who, in turn, vex him in their vain attempt to control him.

Then the parent and child get on each other's nerves so constantly that there are relatively few times when they feel mutually affectionate and companionable.

But, with a few limitations established early and continually, the way is cleared for mutual enjoyments.

3.—To lay the foundation of self-control.

How can self-control be expected in the child at 7, 10 or 15 who was not effectively controlled by his parents at two or five?

4.—For furthering good citizenship.

Juvenile delinquents are noted for their lack of self-control and of respect for anybody's authority or the rights and feelings of other persons.

—:—

SOME WRITERS are now urging parents to control their youths better. But if they had not effectively controlled these youths when they were tots, how can they hope to do so now that they are teen-agers?

5.—For promoting good mental health.

The child not adequately restrained in his early years is sure to have excessive frustrations and conflicts with himself later and with other people. In many instances of mental illness there are obvious evidences of lacking self-control.

6.—The child who hasn't early and constantly acquired wholesome inhibitions hardly can profit much from all the efforts of the home, church and community to build in him good attitudes and ways of behavior through positive and constructive measures.

My bulletins, "How To Teach Child Meaning Of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Dozen In Decision At Camp Services

About a dozen went to the altar after Dr. H. W. Couchenour's sermon Wednesday night at the Hollow Rock camp service. He used Gen.6:3 and Isa.55:6 for his Scripture.

In the song service that preceded the sermon, Fred Kane of the Boyce Methodist Church sang "Overshadowed by His Mighty Love;" Miss Nadine Barnes of Salem, "Then I Met Jesus," and the Hollow Rock Choir, "Jesus Saves." Jack Martin of Asbury College gave a marimba solo for the offertory.

Tonight's speakers will include Miss Janie Bradford of Washington, Pa., at 6 and the Rev. Charles Williams of Lancaster, Ohio.

Annual Missionary Day will be held Friday with services at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Speakers will include the Rev. and Mrs. William Cox and the Rev. Charles Waggoner, all of Africa, Mrs. Florence Munroe of China, the Rev. Edwill Kilbourn of Korea and Miss Ruth Berget of South America.

Prof. Marvin G. Dean, head of the voice and choral department of Asbury College, leads in a congregational "sing" nightly to welcome newcomers.

Water Condition Will Be Remedied

A Chester property owner, complaining of surface water trouble at his home, was promised assistance at a meeting of Chester Council Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Wilson of Charles St. said water was causing ditches to be eroded in front of their garage, and he said he is unable at times to get his auto out.

Wilson reminded councilmen he appeared before them last month to report the condition and said nothing has been done since. Following a lengthy discussion, Councilman Charles Kology, chairman of the street committee, said the street department will correct the drainage problem when work is finished on a sewer in the Fifth Ward.

The street department is to construct a large concrete slab to replace wooden boards covering a storm sewer at Plutus Ave. and 10th St.

A beer license application from Joseph Cornell of the 500 Bar of Carolina Ave. was approved. The next meeting will be Aug. 19.

By GARRY MEYERS

Early Learning Of No Proves Good Guide

Let me summarize some reasons I have given in this column over the years for teaching the child from his early years to respect the word "No."

By Garry Meyers

1.—To keep him whole and alive.

Many a child loses his life because he has not learned to respect certain definite limitations. If he has not acquired basic inhibitions early, he won't be so likely to hold himself in check against dangers later in his life.

FOR EXAMPLE, if the doctor's orders are to be carried out, the child, during certain illnesses, must remain in bed for certain periods. If he refuses to do so he could lose his life or become a life-time invalid, such as a heart cripple.

2.—To enable the child to enjoy abundant love.

The child who ignores "No" or "Don't" vexes his parents who, in turn, vex him in their vain attempt to control him.

Then the parent and child get on each other's nerves so constantly that there are relatively few times when they feel mutually affectionate and companionable.

But, with a few limitations established early and continually, the way is cleared for mutual enjoyments.

3.—To lay the foundation of self-control.

How can self-control be expected in the child at 7, 10 or 15 who was not effectively controlled by his parents at two or five?

4.—For furthering good citizenship.

Juvenile delinquents are noted for their lack of self-control and of respect for anybody's authority or the rights and feelings of other persons.

—:—

SOME WRITERS are now urging parents to control their youths better. But if they had not effectively controlled these youths when they were tots, how can they hope to do so now that they are teen-agers?

5.—For promoting good mental health.

The child not adequately restrained in his early years is sure to have excessive frustrations and conflicts with himself later and with other people. In many instances of mental illness there are obvious evidences of lacking self-control.

6.—The child who hasn't early and constantly acquired wholesome inhibitions hardly can profit much from all the efforts of the home, church and community to build in him good attitudes and ways of behavior through positive and constructive measures.

My bulletins, "How To Teach Child Meaning Of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Dozen In Decision At Camp Services

About a dozen went to the altar after Dr. H. W. Couchenour's sermon Wednesday night at the Hollow Rock camp service. He used Gen.6:3 and Isa.55:6 for his Scripture.

In the song service that preceded the sermon, Fred Kane of the Boyce Methodist Church sang "Overshadowed by His Mighty Love;" Miss Nadine Barnes of Salem, "Then I Met Jesus," and the Hollow Rock Choir, "Jesus Saves." Jack Martin of Asbury College gave a marimba solo for the offertory.

Tonight's speakers will include Miss Janie Bradford of Washington, Pa., at 6 and the Rev. Charles Williams of Lancaster, Ohio.

Annual Missionary Day will be held Friday with services at 10:30 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Speakers will include the Rev. and Mrs. William Cox and the Rev. Charles Waggoner, all of Africa, Mrs. Florence Munroe of China, the Rev. Edwill Kilbourn of Korea and Miss Ruth Berget of South America.

Prof. Marvin G. Dean, head of the voice and choral department of Asbury College, leads in a congregational "sing" nightly to welcome newcomers.

Water Condition Will Be Remedied

A Chester property owner, complaining of surface water trouble at his home, was promised assistance at a meeting of Chester Council Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Wilson of Charles St. said water was causing ditches to be eroded in front of their garage, and he said he is unable at times to get his auto out.

Wilson reminded councilmen he appeared before them last month to report the condition and said nothing has been done since. Following a lengthy discussion, Councilman Charles Kology, chairman of the street committee, said the street department will correct the drainage problem when work is finished on a sewer in the Fifth Ward.

The street department is to construct a large concrete slab to replace wooden boards covering a storm sewer at Plutus Ave. and 10th St.

A beer license application from Joseph Cornell of the 500 Bar of Carolina Ave. was approved. The next meeting will be Aug. 19.

NATO Believed Lagging In Aircraft And Missiles

By BEM PRICE

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — Manned aircraft and some missiles constitute the striking power —the sword—of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

When you begin asking specific questions about the length of the sword and the temper of its cutting edge, NATO officials become vague. On a month-long tour of European commands, I frequently was referred to some other echelon which—it usually turned out—referred me to still another in an endless chain.

What the Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe, considers an adequate air umbrella for Central Europe has never been announced.

THERE ARE 30 short-range missile battalions in Europe. The goal is 100 such battalions by 1963.

At the moment the heavies missile counterpunch available to the Allies on the continent itself consists of two Redstone missile groups attached to the U. S. Army, Europe, command at Heidelberg.

A Redstone group contains two batteries and each battery has one firing section. In brief, the Army could launch about four Redstones with atomic warheads simultaneously and about two to three hours later could launch another four.

The U. S. Air Force has a squadron of Matador missiles near Sembach, Germany. They are currently being replaced with the 650-mile range, subsonic Mace-A missile, a sort of unmanned bomber.

In December 1957, the NATO council agreed in principle to gird Europe for push-button warfare, using primarily U. S. developed intermediate range ballistic missiles of 1,500 mile range.

AN UNKNOWN number of such missiles now are deployed near the continent in England.

As for the rest of Central Europe, only the Netherlands has indicated a willingness to have IRBM launching sites built on her soil.

When NATO came into being the defensive air cover for Central Europe consisted of 400 aircraft, mostly piston-engine types.

Gen. Jean-Etienne Valluy, commander in chief of the Allied forces in Central Europe, estimates that he now can muster between 1,500 and 2,000 jet aircraft-fighter-bombers and fighter-interceptors. The ratio of interceptors to bombers is secret.

For long-range striking power, the Allies can bring to bear the deep penetration capabilities of the U. S. Air Force's Strategic Air Command, North Africa, Turkey and Spain.

Some Allied forces, especially American, maintain a round-the-clock alert. A certain number of planes and pilots are kept in a constant state of runway readiness.

THE NATO air picture was hurt by French refusal to allow atomic bombs to be stored on her soil unless she is given atomic know-how and control of the bombs.

Reinforcing the NATO air forces is the fast-growing West German air force. At present the Germans have about 350 of the subsonic F84 Republic built and some F86 Lockheed jets.

The British have contributed 250 Canberra bombers and Hawker-Hunter supersonic interceptors to to the NATO sword force.

The French have declined to integrate their air force into the NATO operation except for a few Mystere IVs and FI6s in Germany.

By and large, the U. S. Air Force, equipped with "century series" aircraft-F100s through F104s —constitutes the backbone of the defensive and counter-offensive air forces in Central Europe, about 1,100 planes.

The Danes, Belgians and Dutch have small forces, flying mostly F84s and F86s.

East of the Iron Curtain in the satellite nations and along the Russian border 300 airfields are reported. The Soviets are said to have a 20,000 all-jet air force, including 5,100 medium bombers and 200 long range heavy bombers.

THE RUSSIANS also are said to be building a number of missile launching sites for their 700-mile range M103 missile in the satellite nations and pads for their 1,500-mile missile, the T2, along their western borders.

Added up, this means that the Soviets probably have a missile and air superiority over the Allies as of today.

Neither side has much of an air defense capability, though it is believed that the Russians are rushing production of an air defense missile similar to the U. S. made Nike-Ajax and Nike-Hercules, both of which are designed to provide intense defense for a relative small area.

NATO Believed Lagging In Aircraft And Missiles

By BEM PRICE

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — Manned aircraft and some missiles constitute the striking power—the sword—of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

When you begin asking specific questions about the length of the sword and the temper of its cutting edge, NATO officials become vague. On a month-long tour of European commands, I frequently was referred to some other echelon which—it usually turned out—referred me to still another in an endless chain.

What the Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe, considers an adequate air umbrella for Central Europe has never been announced.

THERE ARE 30 short-range missile battalions in Europe. The goal is 100 such battalions by 1963.

At the moment the heavies missile counterpunch available to the Allies on the continent itself consists of two Redstone missile groups attached to the U. S. Army, Europe, command at Heidelberg.

A Redstone group contains two batteries and each battery has one firing section. In brief, the Army could launch about four Redstones with atomic warheads simultaneously and about two to three hours later could launch another four.

The U. S. Air Force has a squadron of Matador missiles near Sembach, Germany. They are currently being replaced with the 650-mile range, subsonic Mace-A missile, a sort of unmanned bomber.

In December 1957, the NATO council agreed in principle to gird Europe for push-button warfare, using primarily U. S. developed intermediate range ballistic missiles of 1,500 mile range.

AN UNKNOWN number of such missiles now are deployed near the continent in England.

As for the rest of Central Europe, only the Netherlands has indicated a willingness to have IRBM launching sites built on her soil.

When NATO came into being the defensive air cover for Central Europe consisted of 400 aircraft, mostly piston-engine types.

Gen. Jean-Etienne Valluy, commander in chief of the Allied forces in Central Europe, estimates that he now can muster between 1,500 and 2,000 jet aircraft-fighter-bombers and fighter-interceptors. The ratio of interceptors to bombers is secret.
